Board 'Ignores' AAUP Request

ST. ONGE CASE IS CLOSED; NO INVESTIGATION ALLOWED

By WOODY HOWE
Star Staff Writer

The State Normal Board voted unanimously Sunday to ignore a request of the American Association of University Professors to investigate the Henry St. Onge case.

St. Onge is an English instructor at Ohio State University whose contract with Wayne State Teachers College for 1961-62 was voided by the board after he allowed a critic of the House Un-American Activities Committee to speak in his backyard.

The professors' association requested in a letter dated March 19 that a committee of two men visit the Wayne campus any day during April.

The letter said the committee, which had been appointed specifically to investigate the circumstances of St. Onge's contract, wanted to interview President William A. Brandenburg or other faculty members who had "helpful" information. "Your cooperation in aranging suitable facilities for the committee to conduct its business will be appreciated," the letter stated. It listed any day in the first 3 weeks of the month as available days for the two professors, one from the University of Colorado, the other from the University of Arkansas.

After a lengthy closed session, the board announced it had directed Dr. Brandenburg to ignore the letter from the AAUP.

Asked later why the board was insisting the Wayne president not even acknowledge the letter, Board President John T. Bresler Jr. of Wayne said the board has considered the case closed since last spring.

"We didn't ask them to come," Bresler added.

From Van Waes

The letter was written by Robert Van Waes, a staff associate in the association.

During a visit to Lincoln last fall, Van Waes said the special committee's report would go to the AAUP committee on academic freedom and tenure.

This committee could recommend censure of the college, its president and, the State Normal Board, should it feel St. Onge's rights were violated.

The man St. Onge had allowed to speak in his backyard was William M. Mandel, a San Francisco radio announcer who reportedly had refused to tell the HUAC whether or not he was a Communist. Mandel supposedly was presenting the other side of the story as depicted in "Operation Abolition," a film of the San Francisco student riots in May, 1960, over an HUAC hearing.

Ohio State authorities had refused Mandel a campus appearance. However, they renewed St. Onge's contract after the board cancelled his Wayne contract.

In voiding the contract, the board said the action was by virtue of St. Onge's conduct since the contract had been consummated.

Sunken Fleet Found

Beirut, Lebanon (P)—Pieces of wood and metal found deep in the Mediterranean Sea off the Lebanese coast may have come from the sunken fleet of Alexander the Great, officials say. Many of Alexander's warships were lost during his siege of Tyre in 332 B.C.

Havelock Festival Has All But Spring Weather

Some 500 spectators shivered along the sidelines as the 1962 Havelock Spring Festival opened with a horse show Sunday in the midst of very unspring-like weather.

But apparently oblivious to the prevailing cold temperatures, people and ponies alike went through their paces at the program highlighted by the performance of a team of Tennessee walking horses. Sometimes reflecting shades of a sophisticated horse show, and at other times, a rip-roaring rodeo, the first day's activities lasted throughout the early afternoon.

The 4-day Festival, previously called the Havelock Farmers' Institute, will continue its activities in warmth, however.

2 Kimball Jailbreakers 'Seen' Here

Two jail-breaking brothers, the older of whom has been identified as the March 4 robber of the Lamson Dairy Mart, 2010 So. 10th, were thought to have been spotted in Lincoln Sunday afternoon.

The Nebraska Safety Patrol said a car the armed pair is thought to have been driving was seen at a 26th and O filling station at 3:10 p.m. It drove away without paying for gas.

NSP said the vehicle is a light blue 1956 Chevrolet station wagon bearing Colorado license RX8711.

Kimball (P)—Three prisoners escaped from the Kimball County jail early Sunday.

Sheriff J. G. Shaul identified them as Donald Gene Kazda, 27, his brother Dennis Kazda, 20, and Harry McGuire, 39.

The Kazdas were being held for trial on a charge of armed robbery of a Kimball liquor store on Feb. 9. McGuire was awaiting sentence on a jury conviction on a charge of breaking and entering.

Sheriff Shaul said another prisoner told him Donald Kazda had used soap to squeeze through a 6 by 11 1/2 inch opening in the cell which was used to pass food to prisoners. From there he used a mop handle to batter through ceiling plaster into an attic room from which he was able to enter the sheriff's office and obtain cell keys.

The prisoner told the sheriff Donald used the keys to release the others.

Heard Noise

The sheriff's wife said she heard a noise about 2:30 a.m. but assumed that it was either Safety Patrolmen or city police placing a prisoner in the cell block. The Shauls' living quarters are in the jail building.

Shaul said the 3 took a car belonging to Wayne Sharpston which was parked about 3 blocks from the jail. A pair of slippers worn by one of the 3 was found near where the car was parked. He described the car as a 1959 blue Chevrolet sedan, license number 71-2126.

Sheriff Shaul said the Kazda brothers were being held in lieu of $15,000 bond each. They waived preliminary hearing in Kimball County Court last week.

This Girl Does Her Homework

... AND, KIDS, SHE LIKES IT!

By GENE BUDIG
Star Staff Writer

Evelyn Thoman has more homework than the average University of Nebraska coed — probably 5 times as much. It starts around 7 a.m. when Mrs. Thoman, with the assistance of an understanding husband, sets out to solve "5 new and major crises."

Presenting the crises are 5 of the younger Thomans, Linda 15, Kim 13, Ruth 10, Roger 8, and Eric 5. A 6th child, Lila, is enrolled in music at the University of Wichita.

"We get things ironed out early in the morning," explains the peppy housewife who is working toward a Master's degree in experimental psychology.

Thirty minutes later, breakfast is on and appetites are up.

Hubby Helps

"Clemens (Mr. Thoman) takes care of breakfast," Mrs. Thoman says. "Monday, Wednesday and Friday it's oatmeal; Tuesday and Thursday it's eggs; Saturday it's cold cereal; Sunday it's pancakes. Clemens keeps all the children happy this way."

Shortly after breakfast, the kids exit from the big white frame house at 3845 Sheridan for school, one by one. "Even that is timed," she adds.

The young Thomans make tracks to 3 different schools. "Eric (the kindergartener) and I leave the house about 8:40," she says.

Then, the school day of Evelyn Thoman, graduate student, begins.

It runs until 4:30 p.m. and Mrs. Thoman admits: "I enjoy every minute of it." Her days are spent jotting down lecture notes, doing survey work and presiding over an underclass laboratory.

Why?

Chance To Grow

"Going to school gives me an excellent chance to grow," Mrs. Thoman explains. She sees college as "a source of stimulation despite pressures."

Enroute to a Bachelor's degree, Mrs. Thoman attended 5 universities where her husband, a professor in economics, instructed.

She views her education as excellent training for the children, who she says have learned the meaning of co-operation and responsibility.

Mrs. Thoman admits that her decision has meant much less social life, next-to-no free time and a regular noon lunch of cold cheese and a can of fruit, but she says: "It's the price you have to pay, and besides, I love cheese."

After 4:40, she dons an apron for her role as mother and homemaker.

"We eat, talk over problems and have fun together until around 8 o'clock. Then, it's back to the books. The children understand the situation and are most helpful," she says.

Graduate student Thoman pores over the books until around 11. Then, it's lights out.

The next thing she knows, it's 7 o'clock and 5 new crises emerge.

State To Get A Little Warmth

A warming trend under fair skies will move east over the state by Monday night, the Weather Bureau said. Temperatures will range from a high near 50 in the Panhandle to the lower 40s in the south during the day.

Waterfall Discovered

Caracas (P)—A Roman Catholic missionary reports the discovery of a waterfall on the Caura River in eastern Venezuela which he estimated is 4,000 feet high. The priest sighted the falls from a small plane. If his estimate is right, the falls would be considerably higher than Venezuela's 3,212-foot Angel Falls, said to be the world's highest.

SUSPENSION SUSPENSEFUL

Wellington, New Zealand (UPI)—English pianist Irene Kohler was attacking Rachmaninoff's D Minor Concerto when the zipper at the back of her low-necked gown broke.

Engrossed in the performance, she played on. During the second movement her gown's long sleeves began to slip down from her shoulders. As the movement came to a climax, her low neckline began to dip lower. The audience sat on the edge of their chairs enthralled as the pianist continued into the third movement.

A member of the accompanying New Zealand National Orchestra dashed onto the stage and draped a stole over Miss Kohler's bare shoulders.

As the pianist struck the final note, the audience broke into wild applause.

THE LUCKY ONES . . . Mr. and Mrs. Sanford Harter and their 18-month-old daughter escaped injury when their home was destroyed.

Clean-Up Follows Terrible Tornado

Milton, Fla. (UPI)—National Guardsmen and rescue crews began clearing away debris Sunday from a 7-mile long strip laid to waste by a tornado which killed 15 persons and left around 600 others homeless.

A preliminary estimate placed the damage at $1.5 million but T. G. Melson, president of the Milton City Council, said "that's just a guess right now."

The tornado caught this area of the Florida panhandle by surprise. The area had been excluded from a tornado alert issued by the U.S. Weather Bureau. The twister cut a path of destruction 300 yards wide through two residential areas housing hundreds of Navy and Marine Corps families and through a Negro residential section.

Around 200 homes and business establishments were destroyed by the tornado.

25 Injured

Fifteen persons died in the surprise storm and 25 others were injured, some critically.

About 100 National Guardsmen, dispatched here by Gov. Farris Bryant at the request of Sheriff Wade H. Cobb Jr., cordoned off the disaster area to prevent looting. Volunteer rescue teams and sailors from Whiting Field and the Pensacola Naval Air Station rushed here to lend assistance. Food and blankets were sent by the Red Cross.

Hundreds of families were allowed to return to the area Sunday to see if anything of their homes could be salvaged. Some small items pots and pans, shoes, clothing, were retrieved from dirt and rubble. But in most cases, the destruction had been thorough.

While the damage was great, some families considered themselves lucky to have escaped with their lives. Ted M. Childers was visiting friends when the twister vent its fury on the town. Rushing home, he found his 11-year-old daughter, Linda, scrambling through rubble, looking for her sister, Bonnie Jo, 8.

"We found her under a pile of rubbish," Childers said. "I knew she was hurt and tried to get her to a doctor. The roads were blocked but I finally bulldozed through." Both girls were hospitalized in good condition.

Erroneous SAC Alert Confirmed

Omaha (P)—The Strategic Air Command (SAC) confirmed Sunday night a report that an erroneous attack alarm during the height of the Berlin crisis last fall sent H-bomb loaded planes rushing to runways at SAC bases all over the world.

The spokesman said a story copyrighted by the Washington Star was correct except on one point. Maj. John J. Oswald of the public information staff said the alert was on "only a matter of seconds" rather than the "slightly more than 4 minutes" previously reported.

At Colorado Springs, Colo., Col. Sam West, director of public affairs for the complex North American Air Defense Command system (NORAD) said communications failures never have caused a false alert and he knew of no emergency such as reported by the Washington Star.

Notified of the West statement, Maj. Oswald said it was a matter of "compatibility of terms." He declined further comment except to say that SAC confirmed the report of the Star except for the one variation.

"We contacted the Ballistic Missile Early Warning System (BMEWS) at Thule, Greenland, and learned it was still there and had not been attacked. A training plane is always in the air near the Arctic warning base. Then we knew it was a communications problem."

The author of the story, Richard Fryklund, said lights on a signal board indicated that something had gone wrong with BMEWS, the radar stations designed to detect enemy missiles across the Arctic wastes.

The public information officer declined comment on a reference in Fryklund's story that "lines to Colorado Springs were found to be dead," thus indicating attack there.

Swiss Vote Nixes Atom Arms Ban

Geneva (P)—Swiss voters decided in a nationwide referendum Sunday that this neutral country should have the right to atomic armament.

The male electorate—women have no right to vote on federal matters—turned down nearly 2-1 a left-wing constitutional amendment to ban nuclear weapons on Swiss territory.

The vote count gave 286,858 votes for the amendment, 537,387 against it.

Backed By Reds

Specifically, the vote was on a constitutional amendment to ban production, importation and use of atomic arms on Swiss territory. The amendment was supported by the left wing of the Swiss Social Democratic Party and by the Communists. The government, both houses of Parliament and all other political parties had come out against it.

The Swiss say they have no illusion they could build their own nuclear arms soon. Some observers believe, however, that the Swiss with their wealth, technical skill and hydroelectric power could one day produce their own nuclear arms if they really wanted to.

The existing militia-type Swiss army has its own small rockets and highly developed, electronically guided conventional guns and Alpine tanks.

Lincoln Man Jailed In Acid Tossing Case

A Lincoln man who may have been behind the throwing of acid in Victor Pechar's face on March 17 has been arrested and jailed, Police Chief Joe Carroll said late Sunday.

He and another jailed man involved in the incident, both in middle age, were questioned Sunday "relative to the assault of Pechar," the chief said.

Charges may be filed against the duo Monday, he added. Pechar, 24, suffered an eye injury and severe burns to his face, arms, chest and right leg when he was splattered with acid in this apartment house at 501 So. 13th.

Carroll emphasized that the two men jailed over the weekend are in addition to the two Omaha men who pleaded guilty in Lancaster County Court to assault and battery charges arising from a March 3 assault on Pechar.

The Omaha pair, Howard D. Wolfe, 36, and Everett J. Gearhart, 32, probably are not connected with the March 17 incident, according to County Atty. Paul Douglas. They are in jail pending sentencing.

'Must Share Guilt'

BLAMED FOR INVASION

Havana (UPI)—The Communist newspaper Hoy said Sunday that President Kennedy and ex-President Eisenhower "must morally feel that they are on trial as war criminals" along with the 1,179 captured Cuban invaders being judged before a court martial here.

The trial of those captured after the 1961 Bay of Pigs invasion resumes for the third day Monday in the courtyard of heavily guarded Principe Prison. During the trial sharpshooting riflemen keep the defendants under constant surveillance.

Hoy, in a biting editorial, said:

"John F. Kennedy, currently U.S. president, personally gave the order for the so-called preliminary operation to the cunning invasion . . .

"Kennedy and his predecessor Eisenhower and their lieutenants (ex-Vice President Richard Nixon and Vice President Lyndon Johnson must morally feel they are on trial as war criminals."

More Barbs

The Red newspaper hurled another barb at Kennedy for the failure of last year's proposed prisoners-for-tractors swap which collapsed when Premier Fidel Castro drastically increased his demands.

"Kennedy and his accomplices must also feel as if they are seated in the witness box for having rejected the generous offer made by the Cuban government to free the captured mercenaries," the newspaper said.

There was still no indication when the trial, which recessed over the weekend after sessions on Thursday and Friday, may conclude or what fate may await the prisoners.

Guilty Pleas Claimed

However, official announcements before the recess said all of the defendants, charged with being "mercenaries" who invaded Cuba on orders from "U.S. imperialism," had pleaded guilty.

Relatives of the prisoners insisted that the men had rejected help from a court-appointed defense attorney and had in effect challenged the legality of the proceedings, the largest mass trial in Cuban history.

(Havana broadcasts heard in Miami last Friday indicated that the prisoners had been grouped into 3 categories. One group was apparently earmarked for the firing squad and a second group could expect imprisonment, according to the broadcasts.

Syrian Troops Control Pro-Nasser Flare-Up

Beirut, Lebanon, (P) — Pro-Nasser civilians reportedly battled government troops in the commercial center of Homs Sunday and demonstrations against the new Syrian junta erupted in Syria's second city of Aleppo.

The army was reported to have resorted to Sunday night. The outbreak of violence was the first since military chiefs overthrew Syria's conservative regime in a bloodless coup March 28.

There was no word on the extent of the fighting but reliable reports reaching Beirut said at least 50 soldiers were killed in Homs, 100 miles north of Damascus.

The fighting began when supporters of President Abdul Gamal Nasser of the United Arab Republic marched on the Homs town hall carrying placards bearing pictures of Nasser.

The Beirut newspaper L'Orient said troops fired to disperse the crowd and that the demonstrators returned the fire, killing at least 5 soldiers.

Reports said the Junta dispatched a delegation to Homs, which persuaded the dissident leaders to come to terms Sunday evening.

The demonstrations in Aleppo, a city of more than 350,000 only 25 miles from the Turkish border, were in support of the ousted regime of President Nazim El Koudsi and Premier Marouf Dawlbi—both Aleppo men.

Informants said the Aleppo demonstrations were less serious than the Homs uprising. Throughout most of the day, Damascus radio broad-

Clothing Drive Is Planned By Youth From 7 Churches

Some 100 junior high young people of 7 churches met at First Plymouth Congregational Church Sunday to make final plans for aiding Church World Service in a clothing collection project Saturday.

The young people will seek gifts of clothing and money from their own congregations, and from a door-to-door collection in an area bounded by A Street and Lake, between 17th and 27th.

Participating churches in this One Great Hour of Sharing project are: First Presbyterian, Second Presbyterian, Westminster Presbyterian, Trinity Methodist, First Christian, Tabernacle Christian and First Plymouth Congregational.

Whatever cannot be sent for distribution overseas will be given to the Goodwill Industries of Lincoln for further processing. All collectors will be properly identified with arm-bands, and be accompanied by adult supervisors.

cast appeals to the people of Aleppo to support the Junta and close ranks "before the dangers caused by the agents of imperialism."

The broadcasts added to the mystery of what was going on by claiming that "Israel and imperialism" were planning a fresh attack on Syria.

In Cairo, U.A.R. officials promptly announced support of Syria against external aggression.

U.A.R. State Minister Abdel Kader Hatim said in a statement that "Syrian authorities are encountering external danger and the U.A.R. will place all its material resources to repel any aggression against Syrian lands."

For a time large sections of northern Syria were sealed off as the army moved to restore order.

Airman Hurt Seriously In 1 Of 4 Crashes

Four persons were injured in weekend traffic accidents, one seriously, lawmen said Sunday.

Late Sunday, a Veterans Hospital spokesman said A-2c Kermit McGinnis, 22, of the Lincoln Air Force Base, was still in serious condition after a one-car accident near the LAFB east entrance on U.S. 234.

The airman suffered a cerebral contusion, possible broken neck, possible hip fracture and abrasions of the face and neck. Part of the time, the spokesman said, McGinnis is unconscious.

Sunday afternoon, police said, Arthur Honnor, 50, of 2949 Q, was injured when his car and one driven by 20-year-old Sterling H. Ingwerson of Manhattan, Kan., collided at 48th and Vine. Honnor refused medical attention, police added.

Sunday morning, 30-year-old Donald Drevo of 2959 P suffered cuts when his car struck a parked car on Van Dorn between 22nd and 24th. The second car, police said, was owned by Edward M. Sullivan of 2201 Van Dorn.

And the sheriff's office said Harvey C. Nash, 19, of Palmyra, was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital for bruises suffered in a 3-car pile-up near 33rd and Adams.

Girl Overcome By TV Smoke

A 16-year-old girl who was operated on for appendicitis a week ago was overcome by smoke and hospitalized after a fire at her home, firemen said.

Peggy Catlin of 2145 Q was trying to snuff out a blaze that started from a TV set short circuit. Firemen gave her oxygen and took her to St. Elizabeth Hospital. Sunday she was released.

Peggy's mother, Mrs. Frank Catlin, suffered burns to her fingers; firemen applied first aid after putting out the fire.

Peru Expresses Hope For Full Accreditation

Peru State Teachers College hopes the National Council for Accreditation of Teachers Education will offer full accreditation for Peru's undergraduate program this month.

Peru President Neal S. Gorman made this report to the State Normal Board Sunday.

An NCATE representative recently visited the Peru campus to make first hand observations in two questionable areas of Peru's program.

In question were the college's one-and-two-year elementary programs and its heavy concentration of education courses.

Refused Twice
The NCATE granted provisional accreditation in 1958, but refused full accreditation twice, in 1960 and 1961, because of these two areas.

The report of the NCATE representative said that Peru had removed the one-and-two-year programs from its catalogue but was unable to force students to continue the full 4 years because of the Legislature's certification statutes.

The college, while reluctantly recommending for certification a student who is enrolled in the 4-year program after 76 credit hours (4 semesters and a summer session), nevertheless discourages this practice, the report confirmed, and most students continue through the entire program.

In the area of broadness of education, the report noted that one-third of the total hours of graduation, 125, must be taken in education courses. The others must necessarily be in one or more areas outside education.

Wayne Commended
Earlier, the board commended Wayne State Teachers College president, William A. Brandenburg, for his institution's recent master's program accreditation by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

Brandenburg gave the board an estimate of enrollment for the coming third trimester. He said there might be 500 students, which is more than the college had estimated.

Registration begins this week. But 39-42% of students now enrolled had expressed a desire to continue, he said. Current enrollment is 1,337. This is the first year of the trimester experiment, and the board is interested to see how

Vandals Damage Grave Stones At Wyuka Cemetery

Vandals desecrated 25 graves in Wyuka Cemetery by pushing over the marker on each one, police reported Sunday.

Police Chief Joe Carroll said the damage may be due to a college fraternity stunt; Detective Lt. Merl Hesser said: "Investigation is under way."

Damage may run into the thousands of dollars, he added. He said that "25 gravemarkers were pushed over, broken and upset."

The scene of the destruction was the southern edge of the cemetery running along O St. where street construction is under way. There are no street lights within two blocks of the scene.

The destruction was carried out sometime early Saturday or late Friday, according to police reports. Just to reset the headstones would cost at least $500, police said, but if any markers were damaged, Hesser noted, $500 would not come "anywhere near" paying the final cost.

Would-Be Picnic Goers Went, Saw, Took—Will Pay

What's a picnic without proper seasoning and tools?

Two students consulted the shelves at the O. P. Skaggs store at 48th and Van Dorn. They pocketed their selections:

One jar of onion salt, 2 cans of steak sauce, one jar of garlic salt, one box of seasoning salt, some meat tenderizer, 3 paring knives and a package of plastic spoons.

Then they left without paying. Police arrested them for shoplifting.

Integration Opponents Face Excommunication

... IN NEW ORLEANS

New Orleans (P) — The Roman Catholic archbishop of New Orleans has threatened several leading segregationists here with excommunication, a high church official disclosed Sunday.

Personal letters, this source said, went to each Catholic on the platform Friday during a meeting of the militant segregationist White Citizens Council.

Confirmation of the stern action by Archbishop Joseph Francis Rummel came after Mrs. B. J. Gaillot Jr., president of Save Our Nation, Inc. told the Associated Press she had been so threatened. (Later, the chancery office of the archdiocese issued this statement:

"As the chancery stated earlier today, upon notice to the press by Mrs. B. J. Gaillot Jr., that she had received a letter from the archbishop: 'It is true that a 'personal and confidential' letter was sent to Mrs. B. J. Gaillot Jr. since she has chosen to make it public, no further comment is needed.

"The chancery categorically denies making any statement that personal letters went to each Catholic who was on the platform Friday night at a meeting of the White Citizens Council."

Mrs. Gaillot and members of her group picketed the residence of Archbishop-Coadjutor John Patrick Cody following an announcement that schools in the archdiocese would be desegregated next fall.

Emile A. Wagner Jr., attorney and staunch segregationist who opposed integration of public schools here in 1960, said he refused to accept a letter from the archdiocese.

"I have heard it contained such a threat (of excommunication)," Wagner said. "I wouldn't be surprised if it (the letter) were a threat of moral bludgeon to prevent anyone from taking a position from what is being done here."

Mrs. Gaillot's organization contends biblical teachings prove "God demands segregation."

Excommunication casts out Catholics from the communion of the church.

In the Roman Catholic Church, there are two kinds of excommunication — minor and major.

What is a farmer?

C. A. Ramblings of Lahoma, Okla. has provided this definition: "A farmer is the only businessman in the world who has the courage to try to make a living by buying retail and selling wholesale."

How would you like to feed 50 people every day?

The time is coming say many agricultural observers when the farm worker that produces for 26 people today will soon have to double this figure.

But, on this subject, N. P. Ralston, extension director at Michigan State University, says an important fact has been overlooked.

"What many fail to consider is that the farmer could never accomplish the feat of producing for 26 people today, or more in the future, all by himself. It takes many others off the farm to complete the picture including the transportation, processing, marketing, selling and other industries where nearly 40% of the total labor force—in agri-business," explained Ralston.

There is a brand-new experiment going on in Kansas for farmer-city relations.

Members of the Kansas Farmers Union have signed, added postscripts and mailed letters to 25,000 "city cousins" who work in factories in Detroit, Philadelphia and Wheeling, West Virginia.

The letters point out the tremendous volume of cars, trucks, machinery, tires, gas and appliances that farmers buy. On a second page each farmer indicated what else he would buy if his income were increased. Many of the items are made in the factories of the people to whom letters went.

"We don't expect miracles, but maybe it will be a stepping-stone," said O. H. Swenson, president of the Wabau-see County Farmers Union.

John L. Skinner, extension poultryman at the University of Nebraska, has a suggestion for 4-H club projects.

Skinner says that many rural and urban youngsters looking for possible project suggestions should take a closer look at the poultry field which offers a wide variety all the way from turkeys produced for meat to pigeons produced for their flying ability or their homing instinct.

The average milk cow in Nebraska last year produced 6,160 pounds of milk which is 28% more than she produced 10 years ago, according to C. W. Nibler, extension dairyman, University of Nebraska.

The increase in milk production per cow has been gradual from 4,840 lbs. in 1951, to 5,480 in 1960, to 5,950 in 1961. During the same period of time the number of milk cows in Nebraska decreased by 28%, said Nibler.

"No longer should we use the term 'farmers and businessmen,'" says W. B. Camp, a California grower and U.S. Chamber of Commerce member.

He told the American Bankers convention in San Francisco—"Today's farmer is a combined scientist, engineer and good businessman."

Two Bloomfield Doctors Balk At Welfare Rules

Creighton (P) — Two doctors at Bloomfield have notified Knox County Welfare Director Joe Dobry they will treat welfare patients free before submitting to regulations imposed by the Division of Public Welfare.

Dobry, who lives in Creighton, said he had not yet received the letter from the doctors but that the regulations involved are contained in the state manual and plan for welfare programs.

He said the doctors, R. H. Kohtz and D. J. Nagengast, are free to treat the patients without charge if they so desire.

The doctors described "recent directives from your office increasingly restrictive in their terms."

Dobry said the regulations had been in the manual for a long time.

"We will not be dictated to by any government agency or by any layman heading such an agency as to how, when or where we may render services to our patients," Drs. Kohtz and Nagengast said. "We have always given these patients the same consideration all our other patients receive. But under your restrictions we would be forced to give these patients inferior service."

"This we refuse to do," the

Orphans Find Tears, Joy At Reunion

Grand Island (UPI)—Fifty-three orphans brought to Nebraska a half century ago from a New York founding hospital held an emotional reunion Sunday.

Orphans who now live in Nebraska, Wyoming, Minnesota, North Dakota and Iowa were among the 130 persons at the reunion.

The others were husbands, wives and children of the orphans.

Titanic Victim

Among those at the reunion was Marjorie Barry of Greeley, Neb., who was aboard at the sinking of the Titanic. Her father died on the ship and although she and her mother escaped in a lifeboat, her mother found herself unable to care for the child and placed her in the founding hospital.

Among others were Mrs. Florence Jacobson of Kearney, and Mrs. Florence Kocian of Plattsmouth. Mrs. Kocian's real name was Jane Dalgaliash but when she was taken off the train 50 years ago and placed with her foster family, she was wearing a coat and hat marked with Mrs. Jacobson's former name of Florence Smith.

Mrs. Kocian's foster parents were not sure just what her name was, but they liked Florence and called her by that name.

Wrong Name

The orphans displayed articles of clothing which they had worn when they were brought to Nebraska and Mrs. Kocian noticed that some of the clothing was marked Florence Smith. It was at this display she met the present Mrs. Jacobson, whose name she was given due to the clothing mixup.

Present at the reunion were Sister Maria Catherine and Msgr. Daniel A. McGuire, co-administrators of the founding hospital, and Sister Marie Thomasina, long-time member of the hospital staff.

Wauneta Man Crash Victim

Imperial (UPI) — Rodney Hamilton, 25, Wauneta, died at a hospital here Sunday of injuries suffered in a highway accident Saturday night on U.S. 6 one mile east of Wauneta.

The State Safety Patrol said Hamilton was a passenger in a car driven by Eylee E. Woods, 30, also of Wauneta.

The westbound car left the highway and rolled over, shearing off a telephone pole.

Woods was hospitalized with a fractured right leg and lacerations and was described as being in serious condition.

letter said. Limitations listed by the doctors included:

—Payment will be made for only one call per week with a limit of 4 calls per any authorization period for chronic illness plus a limit of one call a day for acute illness.

—Laboratory work for one call shall not exceed one dollar except for blood sugar test.

—Vendors dispensing drugs of medicine will designate drug by name and give the dosage dispensed.

—Shots and injections will be designated by type of shot given and drug used.

Drs. Kohtz and Nagengast said they will no longer make home visits under the welfare plan.

"If the welfare recipients cannot come to the office for treatment, they must get your permission to enter the hospital, where we will take care of them," the letter to Dobry said.

WORST 1962 CRASH KILLS 4

Four men died Saturday when these two vehicles crashed on Neb. 35 about 7 miles east of Wayne. The car at left carried Myles Brotherton and his brother, John,

Christian Youth Install John Foust President

Beatrice (P) — New officers of the Christian Youth Fellowship, the youth group of the Disciples of Christ (Christian) Church were installed Sunday.

The newly-elected officers include John Foust, Lincoln, president; Joyce Gordon, Wilcoxville, vice president; Gordon Hampton, Omaha, secretary and Robert Wilmot, Omaha, treasurer.

Other officers are Susan Jacobs, Lincoln, study chairman; Lura Hatten, Fremont, service chairman; Evelyn Popperts, Grand Island, worship chairman; David Haas, North Platte, enlistment chairman, and Jim Quinn, Fairbury, recreation chairman.

Speakers at the weekend meeting included Dr. Howard Short of St. Louis, editor of the church publication "The Christian", and Norman Stacey of Lincoln, executive secretary of the Nebraska Fellowship of Christian Churches.

Approximately 350 young people attended.

OMAHA PLANS CHILDREN'S ZOO

Omaha (P) — The Omaha Zoological Society has announced initial plans for a children's zoo.

Cost of the zoo would be about $300,000. Its proposed site is on 10th St. immediately north of the main entrance to Riverview Park.

The plan would feature baby animals, mostly the domestic variety such as baby chicks, lambs, rabbits, piglets, colts and calves. It is possible the young of present Riverside Zoo animals might also be displayed.

A booklet prepared by the society, states: "Riverview Park lends itself admirably with its meandering stream, beautifully wooded and naturally hilly terrain. Adults and youngsters alike can wander down crooked paths to the old mill and the splashing water wheel."

Chicago's Lincoln Park Zoo Director R. Martin Perkins will speak at a dinner Wednesday. Society President Sheldon Harris said the dinner is planned to introduce plans which the society has for the development of a campaign to obtain the zoo.

Doctors Critical Of Federal Health Care Legislation

Omaha (P) — Two noted physicians visiting in Omaha are critical of efforts to include medical care for the aged in Social Security benefits.

They are Dr. Charles Mayo, head of the Mayo Clinic at Rochester, Minn., and Dr. Leonard Larson of Bismark, N.D., president of the American Medical Assn.

Dr. Mayo termed President Kennedy's federal aid plan as "a giant step toward socialized medicine." Dr. Mayo acknowledged that some hardship cases require financial assistance.

But, he asserted, the answer there is found in the Kerr-Mills Act, passed in 1960, which provides federal matching funds for states to use toward medical expenses of the needy.

Dr. Larson said the AMA objections to the administration program include high cost of the program, a feeling that the elderly would not get as good care as under a voluntary system and a belief that all should not be taxed to pay the expenses of those who can afford their own care.

Cattle Breeder J. A. Hultine Dead At 85

Saronville — J. Albert Hultine, 85, longtime shorthorn cattle breeder, died in Hastings Sunday.

Funeral services will be Tuesday at the Saronville Lutheran Church. Burial will be in the church cemetery.

Mr. Hultine had exhibited cattle in the Chicago International Livestock show and in 1954 was honored by the University of Nebraska Block and Bridle Club and the Nebraska Livestock Growers Assn. as an outstanding breeder of shorthorn cattle.

'Long-Range Study Needed For ADC'

The long-range future should be taken into serious consideration by state lawmakers when they study the next public welfare budget, John Gage said Sunday night.

"I think we are getting full value for the taxpayer's dollar," the Lancaster County public welfare director said during discussion of "Are Changes Needed in the Aid to Dependent Children (ADC) Program?"

The question was aired during the "Equal Time" public affairs program co-sponsored by the YWCA and radio station KFMQ. Sunday's panel was moderated by Mrs. David Dow.

The panelists agreed that one of ADC's basic problems is the tragedy of fugitive fathers (and mothers) who run away from their family responsibilities.

Gage said one of every 15 Lancaster County children is on ADC. And, he said, the program — designed to help needy children — "is often misunderstood."

'Vicious Circle'

The Rev. Everett Reynolds, pastor of Newman Methodist Church, said ADC officials should pay close attention to family conditions. "Correcting them, he observed, would help dependent children who now face "a vicious circle"

WILLIAM PETERSON 'DRIVER OF YEAR'

Gothenburg (P) — A Custer County agent, William Peterson of Broken Bow, won the 6th annual "Driver of the Year" contest at Gothenburg.

He was one of 12 drivers entered in the contest.

Peterson completed 10 1/2 laps of the 6-block course on the tenth-gallon of gasoline allowed each contestant.

Peterson won a new automobile presented by the Stebbins Implement Co. of Gothenburg.

of low income and correspondingly few opportunities in education, jobs and housing.

Miss Lotus Nicholas, social services supervisor in the State Public Welfare Dept. office of child services, defined ADC as "essentially a program of individual need." She noted that approximately 75% of the state's welfare money comes from federal funds.

"Questions about ADC have caused a furore across the United States," observed Dr. Garnet Larson, associate professor in the University of Nebraska Graduate School of Social Work. A study by the school, she said, showed that "most ADC cases are pretty acceptable families."

Equal Pay Unthinkable

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

This time, the Kennedy administration has gone too far. There is a pro and con to medical care for the aged, to aid for education, to a minimum wage, to a Department of Urban Affairs and to other national programs, but to equal pay for women? Never! Now, the administration in its proposal doesn't have in mind exactly the same thing we do but there is an area of common ground. What it wants to do is get men and women doing the same job paid the same wage and with this we have no argument.

But when you plug for equal pay for women, you are running into a lot of things.

On the Home Front

What about the woman who doesn't work in an office, a factory or some other part of the business and industrial world? What about the women who man the households of the nation? Just to think of this is enough to convince you that we can never possibly have equal pay for women on any across-the-board basis. If we did, there is no doubt that the economic boom would be such as to make your head swim. Think of the fantastic impact upon our economy that would come from women who run the homes being paid a salary for their work. It would make the prospects of disarmament look like pretty small potatoes.

To begin with, take a look at the length of her day. The eight-hour day has caught on in grand style throughout business and industry but not on the home front. The job of the average housewife runs from 12 to 14 hours a day and there is little prospect of its ever being reduced.

From that you can take a look at the work week. Here again we have a tremendous problem in labor-management relations. Few indeed are the jobs in this day that are performed even six and much less seven days a week but that is the schedule of the housewife. Nor does she get any time out for holidays. In a sense she may get a vacation and in another sense she may not.

One can immediately see that the issue of equal pay for women in all walks of life would bring the nation face to face with the most earth-shaking social problems of history. The first thing to come along would be a move to organize the housewife. What more ready field of labor could be found for organizing than one where the day was 12 to 14 hours, the week seven days and the year 52 weeks? There would, of course, be immediate demands for all sorts of changes. And what would the economic impact of all of this be? It depends upon many things but some idea of it can be seen from a little simple arithmetic.

Those Persistent Men

One can imagine that Sen. Roman Hruska had a distasteful weekend at home. He had to deal with disbelievers.

It started early in the year when the senator, no friend of the administration's farm program, was quoted in the press as saying that any number of farmers within his knowledge overcame the strictures of the program by pouring on the fertilizer and planting the corn rows closer together.

This aroused George Spidel, master of the State Grange, Ralph Cole, of the Corn Growers Association, and Lloyd Wallen, director of the Nebraska Feed Grain Growers Association—three tenacious fact hunters. These three have been hunting assiduously for examples of narrow width rows and say they cannot find any. They also say they

Happy Landing, Dr. Miller

The State Board of Education has ended its 3½ month search for a suitable successor to Dr. Freeman Decker, Commissioner of Education until his recent resignation. It chose Dr. Floyd Miller.

Dr. Miller, a study of his education record and his scholarly preparation shows, is amply qualified for the post. The fact that he is in all respects a total Nebraska product will please that great number who believe that the first man in state education should be wholly Nebraska oriented. Dr. Miller took his bachelors degree at Peru State and received his doctorate in education at the University of Nebraska. His considerable experience in the field was confined to Nebraska. Surely he is intimately aware of the Nebraska problem

The Great Agin'er

We always thought the "rising conservative tide" on the campus was phony. Senator Goldwater's appearance at the University of Nebraska last weekend all but proved it.

Goldwater attracted 9,000 persons—a huge mob—to the Coliseum for his morning address. This is a tribute to his national prominence and, in a sense, to the spirited manner in which he pleads his case.

Goldwater is a national leader—the unquestioned hero of traditional Republican

There are now more than 40 million households in the United States. These are households composed of at least a man and woman. It is possible that about half of them would have in them women who were already working or not eligible for a salary for some reason or other. But this still leaves some 10 million housewives who could qualify for a salary under any plan for complete equal pay. Assuming, however, that the pay is there but not equal, it would even then be quite an impact. If paid just $1 an hour straight time on the kind of schedule they work, it would amount to $49 billion a year. If you pay them time and one-half for overtime, add another $14 billion to the figure. This would take care of the nation's entire defense budget and then some.

The housewife's salary based on a straight $1 an hour would be $4,900 a year. If given overtime, she would take in $6,350, before taxes, of course. This automatically raises another big problem as there would then be a battle over who gets to claim the exemptions for income tax purposes. A joint return might solve the problem but who pays what is owed at the final accounting or gets a refund if it's coming?

The finances are all based, too, on a figure for which the average housewife would not work for long. So long as she is being paid nothing, everything is fine because she looks at her situation as a partnership in which she carries one part of the load and her husband the other part. But with pay for her work, the job takes on a different tune.

Pay would destroy the principle by which the housewife lives today and would, therefore, bring her into a much more demanding position. It goes without saying that the $1 an hour wage wouldn't last for long even if she could be induced to start at that figure. Naturally, somebody would have to pay this and that responsibility would probably fall to the husband. He, of course, would then have to be given an increase in pay himself because of this added expense. Adding to the misery of the thought is the fact that this drastic change in things would be completely inflationary.

This unfortunately, will undoubtedly stop it from ever happening because Democrats and Republicans alike appear to be agreed that inflation is an evil thing. Equal pay for women is a fine and wholesome concept but who knows when some dreamer will campaign to carry it to extremes? It is pleasant to know, though, that husbands of the country are getting a minimum $63.5 billion economic bargain with their wives. It makes one feel almost wealthy.

The GOP Boycotts Medical Care Meet

WASHINGTON—House Republican leaders are so bitter over President Kennedy's medical care for the aged program that they have ordered GOP members of the Education and Labor Committee to boycott hearings on legislation dealing with other help for aged people.

An education and labor subcommittee headed by Rep. Cleveland Bailey of West Virginia, was all set to open hearings in Miami recently on a bill that would establish a commission to coordinate all aids for the aged now divided between the Labor Department, the HEW department and other federal agencies.

However, the Miami hearings had to be called off because GOP congressman Peter Garland of Maine refused to attend, causing the absence of a subcommittee quorum.

Two other Republican members of the same subcommittee, Peter Frelinghuysen of New Jersey and Albert Quie, also are threatening to boycott hearings on the bill planned for Wheeling, W.Va., South Bend, Ind., Detroit, New Brunswick, N.J., and three California cities—Sacramento, Berkeley and San Diego.

Nonetheless, Democratic congressmen say the hearings will be held, with or without Republicans present, and despite the undercover sniping of two-Cadillac Charlie Halleck and John Byrnes, the two GOP leaders who have given orders to sabotage them.

In the files of the Justice Department is one of the most amazing dossiers on monopoly ever collected in government history. It pertains to the giant telephone company, and is one reason why Bobby Kennedy spoke out against more A T and T monopoly.

Justice files show that AT and T has profited from more government contacts and contracts than perhaps any other company, and at the same time it has been involved in serious antitrust litigation.

Its contracts include $2,400,000,000 for building the SAGE alert system across the northern part of the United States. The contract was considered so lopsided that Ike's Comptroller General Joseph Campbell ruled it out of order but the Pentagon finally prevailed.

RUTH MONTGOMERY

On Locking A Gift Horse In State Dept. Basement

WASHINGTON—The gifts which admiring leaders of India and Pakistan have showered on First Lady Jacqueline Kennedy are provoking red-faced embarrassment at the State Department.

By law they cannot be accepted; yet Mrs. Kennedy is much too gracious a lady to have been able to refuse them. The quandary is what to do about them.

Legally all gifts bestowed on government officials and their wives must be surrendered to the State Department, which stores them in a basement room until such time as the official leaves government. Even then they cannot be reclaimed until Congress passes a law expressly permitting it.

Gifts presented to Mrs. Dean Rusk, wife of the secretary of state, now repose in the basement storeroom. So do others given in previous years to Mrs. Christian Herter, wife of Rusk's immediate predecessor, because Congress has not yet acted on a pending bill to release them.

Not all of the presents to Mrs. Kennedy need create a problem. If she wishes to abide by the letter of the law, she can temporarily surrender the five-strand pearl necklace studded with diamonds, rubies and emeralds, which President Ayub Khan of Pakistan gave her. The Washington Zoo could serve as a repository for the two royal Bengal tiger cubs, given by Air India, which replaced the pair that died.

But what is to be done with Sardar, the bay gelding presented to the first lady by the Pakistani president? This many-gaited horse cannot be stored in the State Department basement for the next three or seven years, and the zoo is scarcely the place for such a magnificent creature.

At the ceremony of presentation in Pakistan, newsmen quoted Mrs. Kennedy as saying: "No one will be permitted to ride Sardar except me." This would suggest that she plans to stable him at Glen Ora, the Kennedy's leased private estate in nearby Middleburg, Va.

If so, she will not be the first official's wife to retain gifts from foreign rulers. Mrs. Roosevelt and her daughter, Anna, received harem dresses and other novelties from King Saud of Saudi Arabia. Mrs. Nixon had a fitted coat made from astrakhan skins presented to her by the wife of an Asiatic ruler.

The legal department has interpreted the law to forbid the acceptance of any present valued at more than twenty-five dollars. A furor arose several years ago when Victor Purse, deputy chief of protocol, accepted in his wife's name an automobile from King Ibn Saud, with whom he had toured America and Europe. As a result, Purse was transferred out of the protocol division.

Mrs. Elsie Nurmi, the legal custodian, said some 3,900 gifts are currently under lock and key in the department's basement storage quarters. She has no intention, however, of taking custody of a horse.

That problem, she indicated, will rest squarely with the White House. Certainly Mrs. Kennedy is in no way to blame for the current situation. A first lady cannot say, "I refuse to accept," when a foreign official tenders a valuable gift.

Since the problem is a recurring one for all administrations, however, it would seem that our State Department could notify most nations in advance that gifts other than framed photographs are considered out of order.

THEY WALKED WITH CHRIST

Mother Of John

Bible scholars agree that the name of the beloved disciple's mother was probably Salome.

They base this belief on the fact that the passage in Mark XV:40, parallel to that quoted above, refers to her by that name.

It is further conjectured on reliable grounds that she was probably the sister of Mary, the mother of Jesus.

From the scanty account given of her in the gospel narrative, it is evident that she, like her sons John and James, was a devoted follower of Jesus, who was present at the crucifixion and assisted at His entombment.

Matthew, in his gospel (XX:20) relates that on one occasion she came to Jesus with her two sons, "desiring a certain thing of him."

"And He said unto her, What wilt thou? She saith unto Him, Grant that these my two sons may sit, the one on thy right hand, and the other on the left, in thy kingdom."

But Jesus told her: "Ye know not what ye ask. Are ye able to drink of the cup that I shall drink of, and to be baptized with the baptism that I am baptized with?"

Both John and James, says Matthew, assured Jesus that they were able to drink of

"And many women were there beholding afar off, which followed Jesus from Galilee, ministering unto Him: Among which was . . . the mother of Zebedee's children." —Matthew XXVII:55-56

His bitter cup. And Jesus agreed that "ye shall drink indeed of my cup, and be baptized with the baptism that I am baptized with: but to sit on my right hand and on my left, is not mine to give, but it shall be given to them for whom it is prepared of my Father."

The Suppression Of Religion In Cuba

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y.

—An unflinching mark of the totalitarian state and its incumbent dictator has been persecution of religions and suppression of the churches of all denominations. Hitler sought to stifle religion and the godly by poisoning the minds of youth against the church; Stalin persecuted religion by banning worship under penalty of the Siberian concentration camp. Nikita Khrushchev—though less vocal and open about it—is still running the Soviet Union as an atheist state which frowns heavily on religious practices. Hitler killed off six million Jews; Stalin did his share and Khrushchev is merely more subtle in that he squeezes the Jews out of national life step by step.

The dictator and his eternal war on God are evident again, and this time most glaringly, in the anti-religious crusade launched in Cuba by Fidel Castro—undoubtedly under the guided pressure of the Moscow masters. The crushing of the church in Cuba is proceeding in every Cuban hamlet despite the fact that this Caribbean island, like most of Latin America, is predominantly Catholic. So, what happened, and is happening?

A graphic answer has come to me from down in Costa Rica, where a priest run out of Cuba by Castro's secret police is drumming home to the people the savagery and the unholiness of the communists. He lost the fight in his native land but he hopes to drive home to the Costa Ricans the lesson the Cubans have learned the hard way—that communism is the weapon used by Moscow to create a slave empire stretching across the world, and that it wars cruelly and without quarter on human freedom, on democracies and on God.

This priest, Father Eduardo Aguirre, sounded off as a Cuban patriot in the Havana area before Castro came out of the hills. He now goes from town to town in Costa Rica, where there is a serious communist problem, warning one and all against the Red monster. He has a direct approach, as for instance:

"If there is freedom in Cuba today under Fidel Castro, if the workers have the right to own their property, receive high wages, have more leisure time and are free to use it as they wish, have the right to worship freely and speak publicly for what they believe to be right and just—then you tell me why more than 300,000 Cubans have fled their homes without passports and without personal belongings, and in many cases without families? Why have they left the land in which they were born and where their loved ones are buried? Why have so many fled into exile if all the farmland has been equally divided and if everybody is free to worship as he pleases?

"The Catholic church and communism do not have the same principle and do not work for the same ends. Juan Barboza and other communists here in Costa Rica tell you they have. This is false. It is not true. If they have the same purposes, why has Castro thrown out all priests, brothers and sisters from Cuba and confiscated all church property? Why has he wiped out Catholic education in Cuba. Why has he desecrated churches by using them as houses of prostitution, dance halls, and cantinas for his militiamen? Why has he profaned the blessed sacrament and the sacred vessels of religion?

"Right now Castro is setting up a national church in Cuba. He calls it the Catholic church but it is not in union with Rome, nor does it teach the doctrines of Christ. This trick follows the same procedure attempted by the communists in China. He has even dressed up party members in cassocks and paid them to play the part of priests in order to lead the simple and ignorant into docile acceptance of his communist rule."

The Cuban priest rips into Castro next by telling the Costa Ricans:

"What about the rights and privileges of the Cuban workers? You may work seven or eight hours a day here. In Cuba the ordinary man must work ten to twelve hours. During work, and many times after work, he is forced to attend communist indoctrination or train in the militia."

"Women have equal rights with men in Cuba. That means they do not have to care for their children because they are taken away from parents when six months old. Women have equal rights, which means they also work long hours in the fields with the men and carry rifles. They are allowed to see their husbands a few hours on Sunday."

"Thousands of men, women and children are starving in Cuba. The communists in Costa Rica tell you there will be plenty for everybody after the revolution. Castro cannot keep his promises in his own country. He takes the greater share of the crops and livestock from the farmers and does not leave enough to live on. Much goes off behind the Iron Curtain."

"Every day Russia is sending ing tanks, planes and guns to Cuba and it takes the food. Castro's militia is well trained. Why? First to keep the workers down and under control, second to spearhead the communist infiltration of all Latin American nations.

"To whom can the Cuban worker bring his objections now? What rights does he have? If he disagrees with Castro or criticizes him, friends or relatives denounce him and he is liquidated. His crime? Impeding the progress of the state. If he is not shot by the firing squad, he is thrown into rat-infested prisons to starve or die of disease."

"But this is what the communists—those friendly, well-spoken men who visit you every day and give you literature to read—are in reality promising you. A false and non-existent paradise. I have come to Costa Rica to take refuge under its free and democratic government. You must preserve this freedom. You must challenge the communists and their lies."

Dove-Hunting

Lincoln, Neb.

With the letter from Robert McMahon, we hunters can chalk up one more enemy. Apparently Mr. McMahon hasn't troubled himself with much research on the dove issue.

In the majority of states, dove-hunting is almost as traditional as pheasant hunting is in Nebraska. These hunters know that this "pretty bird symbolizing peace" is a sporty target and rewarding table fare. It's too bad that Mr. McMahon pictures Nebraska sportsmen blasting doves off of telephone wires.

The importance of the dove issue goes beyond the present whims of hunters. The theft of dove-hunting rights is merely the first in a series of anti-hunting movements and if we are buffalooned on this, we may as well sell our guns for scrap metal.

'Cool' Kids Stick With Accepted Fashions

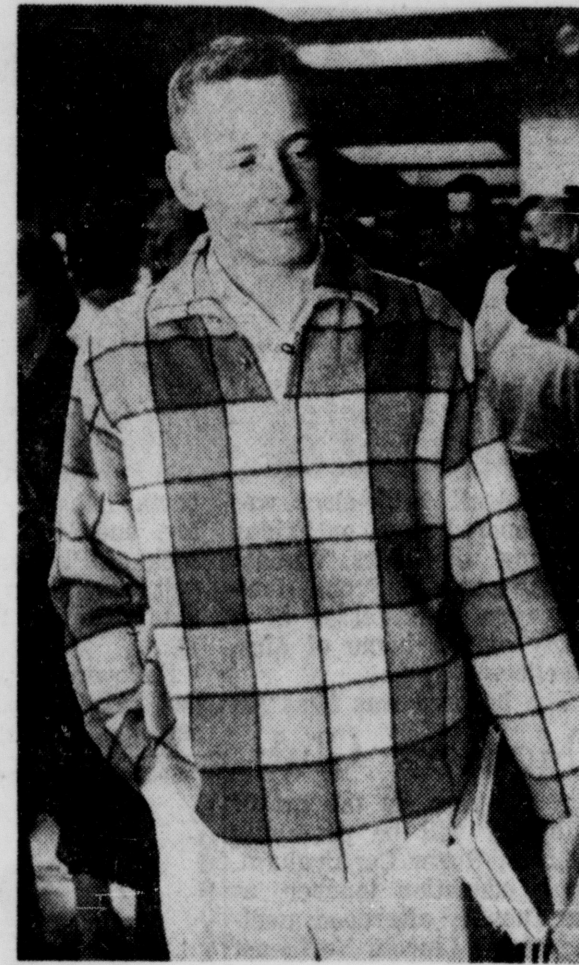

Dick Parker

Kile Johnson

By WOODY HOWE
Star Staff Writer

Conformity and individualism in dress exist side by side among today's "cooler" Lincoln high school students.

Although an occasional fad pops up, most high schoolers resist extremes in dress.

For instance, if a girl wears a bow in her hair—currently an extremely popular flair—she is likely to show conservatism (in high school terms) in the rest of her clothes.

This holds true for boys as well. If a Dick Parker wears a vest, or a Kile Johnson pulls on a colorful "pancho" sweater, the rest of his clothes are likely to reflect the currently accepted garb. The boys prefer white or sport shirts, chino khaki trousers, white gym socks and low-cut loafers. Levi pants sometimes might replace the khakis.

The girls exhibit slightly more divergence in their sweaters, blouses and skirts (which are fashionably high), but the unrolled white wool socks and dirty white sneakers are almost uniform.

The influence of television and Hollywood is slight, but unmistakable. The buttons in some girls' blouses are moving away from the centerline and collars are getting higher and stiffer, in the fashion of the surgeons' clinic shirts, a la Dr. Kildare and Ben Casey.

Frilly blouses, hanging loose at the waist, are a recent addition. Some say Elizabeth Taylor wore one in a film. Others say they are popular now because they allow freedom of movement for the girl to start "twisting" any time it strikes her fancy.

Whatever the reason, a girl at Omaha Benson caused a brief furor when she wore an extreme version of this blouse recently.

Some girls at Southeast High School, where the pictures on this page were taken, showed up in half-sleeve sweatshirts one day. The school staff politely asked these girls to take them off, for the reason they were extreme.

But principals say they seldom need worry about extremes. Most of the students show restraint and good sense.

EVERYWHERE YOU LOOK . . . dirty white sneakers.

STANDBYS . . . khakis, levis, white socks and low loafers.

Multi-Fatality Crashes Mar Spring Weekend

By United Press International

Death struck a wide swath in the air and on highways across the nation during the weekend in a tragic series of multi-fatality accidents.

Six youths died in one accident in California. Families of 3 were wiped out in at least 4 instances. Five coeds died together in Florida.

The 6 youths—all boys in their late teens and early 20s—died on a rural road west of Modesto, Calif., when a car speeding at 70 miles per hour smashed into a second auto on a curve. Four were burned almost beyond recognition.

Five coeds died when their car went out of control on a rain-slick highway while they were returning from a spring vacation at Fort Lauderdale, Fla. The victims, all student nurses who would have graduated in June, passed one truck, then slid into another.

Four young persons apparently returning from a night out were killed when their car hit a highway divider near Marshall, Tex., spun out of control and turned over in a drainage ditch filled with 5 feet of water.

Four persons—including a man, his wife and their daughter—were killed when their twin engine plane crashed on a central Colorado prairie in a turbulent spring snowstorm. One of the victims was Dale A. Beck, president of the Danville Metal Stamping Co., Danville, Ill.

Three members of a Chicago family and two friends died when their twin-engine plane crashed on Woolridge mountain near Jellico, Tenn., in a sudden snow storm.

New Delhi, India (AP)—The Indian government has freed contraceptives from import controls in a move to check a population increase now running up to 10 million a year.

One of the major challenges of the Nehru government today is trying to improve living standards of India's 447 million people in face of the rapid rise in population. With only 2.4% of the world's land space, India has 15% of the world's population—second only to China.

United Nations, N.Y. (AP)—Tanganyika's newly-selected U.N. delegate, 36-year-old Asuterabi Zephania, hails from his country's best-known landmark. He was born on the slopes of Mt. Kilimanjaro.

PAYING TAXES EASIER AFTER GLENN FLIGHT

Washington (AP)—Internal Revenue Commissioner Mortimer Caplin said Sunday some Americans are more willing to pay their taxes since astronaut John B. Glenn's successful space flight.

"Some people wrote me that after watching the great performance of Colonel Glenn they felt that paying taxes was a little easier," Caplin said.

Union Committees Briefed On Steel Pact

Pittsburgh (AP)—Union committees were briefed Sunday on the mechanics of transforming a broad steel industry agreement into detailed labor contracts for individual companies.

United Steelworkers Union groups from 11 major producers thrashed over details in preparation for actual collective bargaining sessions with the companies starting Monday.

It is hoped the new two-year pacts covering some 430,000 basic steelworkers can be signed by Friday.

The general agreement, announced Saturday, provides an increase in fringe benefits valued at an estimated 10 cents an hour. Wage scales remain unchanged. The industry figured the hike at about 2½%.

Spreads Work

In general, the agreement provides broader vacation, unemployment and pension provisions intended to spread out the work time among more and more workers.

All parties hailed the agreement as a step in the right direction in aiding workers in an industry hard-hit by unemployment.

David J. McDonald, USW president, said, "excellent progress has been made on many fronts." He said the pact will create additional jobs opportunities for thousands of employees.

The industry said the most important feature of the negotiations had been "the spirit of cooperation and understanding evidenced by the bargaining teams on both sides."

Nehru Must Have 'Complete' Rest

New Delhi (UPI)—Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru was examined by doctors twice Sunday and they reported he was "maintaining progress and looking much better" in his recovery from a virus attack.

However, they have ordered the Indian leader, who suffered the attack while speaking before the Parliament last Friday night, to take a "complete rest."

All official and private engagements have been canceled for two days. The prime minister is not permitted to attend to any of his other duties despite his pleas to examine some important files.

Nehru's personal physician emphasized that there is "no cause for anxiety" about the premier's condition. A medical bulletin added that "he is cheerful and taking nourishment."

Although their spring bonnets seem to be a bit top-heavy, who can say that their original creations are not the latest thing in chic chapeaux?

Exhibiting the results of their talent and imagination are housemothers on the University of Nebraska campus who were honored Thursday at a Mad Hatters card party by the hospitality committee of the Student Union.

First place winner was Mrs. Eula Harmon (at left), Theta Xi housemother, who borrowed an authentic World War I helmet, decked it with netting, over-sized playing cards, opera glasses for easier "kibitzing," and a medal for meritorious service on the bridge battlefields.

Also pictured are (from the left) Mrs. L. C. Puckett, Chi Omega chaperon, holding up under an immense bunny complete with carrots; Mrs. A. O. Fasser, Sigma Phi Epsilon housemother, whose hat bears a miniature Eiffel Tower; and Mrs. R. H. LeRoy, Delta Gamma chaperon, modeling her Easter bonnet of tulles, posies and baby chicks.

Highlighting the news of suburbia today are numerous birthday parties, guests, and new additions to the population of Lincoln. First to Country Club Terrace and parties—

COUNTRY CLUB TERRACE

Understand that although Miss Donna Weishahn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle L. Weishahn, will observe her sixth birthday on Monday, April 2, she chose last Saturday for the celebration, as week ends are freer and lots more fun. On hand to aid in the celebration Saturday morning about 10 o'clock were Kenny and Sue Gilette, Tracey Pearce, Steve Bond, Scott and Kirk Friedrich, Kim Smith, and Donna's brother, Douglas.

Continuing the celebration on Sunday, Donna was guest of honor at a family dinner, which was attended by her grandmother, Mrs. Esther Boehler, and aunt, Miss Judy Boehler, of Sutton, who arrived in Lincoln for a visit with the Weishahns last Friday. Other guests gathered around the birthday table were Donna's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Colborn and their children, Mark, Susie, and Diane.

Also celebrating a birthday Saturday afternoon was Danny Tedrick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Ted-rick, who observed his sixth birthday last Thursday.

Getting the afternoon off to an exciting start, the group, which included Danny's brothers, Mike and John, Ken Peterson, Steven McKee, Kim Smith, Curtis Plihal, Tim Jones, Donny Miltner, Eric Sieper and Mike Slewitzke, made a tour of the zoo, then returned to the Tedrick home for a continuation of birthday festivities.

Announcing the arrival of their first born, a son, on Wednesday, March 21, are Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Baehr. The young gentleman, to be known as Mark Allen, arrived at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Mark's maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Ray Rabel of Adams, who arrived in Lincoln for a visit with their new grandson on Monday, March 26. Mrs. Rabel remained in Lincoln for a week's visit, although Mr. Rabel returned to Adams early in the week.

The baby's paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. William Baehr, also of Adams.

INDIAN VILLAGE

And we find that houseguests and birthdays also are sharing the spotlight in Indian Village. Word from the home of Mr. and Mrs. James O. Tokheim brings the news that Mr. Tokheim's parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Tokheim of Maynard, Iowa, arrived in Lincoln for a visit last Thursday. They plan to return to Maynard tomorrow.

Suburbia Has Guests, Parties

Mr. O. J. Tokheim and his granddaughter, Susan, both observed their birthdays on Saturday and were guests of honor Saturday evening at a family dinner at the Tokheim home.

Earlier in the day, Susan, who was four years old on Saturday, entertained a group of her friends at an afternoon party. Present for the festivities were Greg and Maureen Harm, Chris and Stephie Meyer, Kathy Gould, Sandra Adams, Karen and Frances Love, and Susan's brother, Rodney.

MEADOW LANE

Word from Meadow Lane this morning brings the news of a new member of the family of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Von Barga. A St. Patrick's Day present, Brian Kenneth Von Barga arrived at Bryan Memorial Hospital on Saturday, March 17. Much delighted with her baby brother who came home on Thursday, March 22, is sister, Lisa Ann, who is three.

Brian's maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Walter Loseke of Scottsbluff. Incidentally, Mrs. Loseke arrived in Lincoln a week ago for a visit with her first grandson and was joined by Mr. Loseke last Tuesday. They returned to Scottsbluff Wednesday.

Paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Von Barga of Alliance, are expected in Lincoln for a visit with the young gentleman and his family on April 8, the date of Brian's baptism.

April Bride-To-Be Is Honored

An April bride-elect was the honored guest on Friday evening when Mrs. William Kapke and Mrs. Frank Moeller were co-hostesses at a party at the home of Mrs. Moeller.

The honoree was Miss Al-

Lenox Club

Mrs. W. L. Williams entertained the members of the Lenox Club at a dessert luncheon at her home on Wednesday. Introduced as a new member of the club was Mrs. Robert Marker, and guests for the afternoon were Mrs. B. F. Eddy, Mrs. R. H. Kennedy and Mrs. Julia Peterson.

berta Lebsack, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lebsack of Pleasant Dale, who will become the bride of Donald Porter on Friday, April 13.

Following a dessert supper, Miss Lebsack was presented a linen shower by the guests. From the left are Mrs. Theo Berg, great aunt of the bride-to-be; Mr. Porter's mother, Mrs. Lewis Porter; the honoree; and her mother, Mrs. Edward Lebsack. Standing are the hostesses, Mrs. Moeller and Mrs. Kapke.

CORRIDOR CHATTER

BY MOLLY DOW

Many of Southeast's teachers have been given grants to further their education, and others are keeping busy attending meetings throughout the state. It is very obvious that they are working hard to keep up with the current trends and ideas.

Mathematics teacher Ronald Massie recently received a $3,450 stipend from the National Science Foundation. This will enable him to study advanced courses for a year at Bowling Green University, Bowling Green, Ohio. He will be doing graduate work in modern mathematics, calculus, modern and linear algebra, modern geometry and matrix theories.

Harold Blout, Southeast geometry instructor, has been selected to attend the Summer Institute of the National Science Foundation for high school teachers at the University. Mr. Blout said that this will help him learn the new trends in math instruction. He will be taking many of the same courses as Mr. Massie.

The National Council of Teachers of English will hold its annual meeting April

Alumnae Club Has Election

Miss Pat O'Brien has been elected president of the Sigma Kappa Alumnae for the coming year.

Other new officers named recently are Miss Gerry Wright, vice president; Mrs. Robert Bates, recording secretary; Miss Frances Spoenemann, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Robert Longman, treasurer; and Mrs. William Misko, historian.

Girl Scouts Entertain

Members of Troop 135 of the Jay-Husker Council of Girl Scouts were hostesses Friday evening at an International Dinner held at First-Plymouth Congregational Church.

The Scouts planned and cooked a menu of international flavor, and included among the evening's guests were three foreign students, Bente Danielson of Copenhagen, Denmark, Cheng Tsou of Formosa, and Nanili Collins of the Maui Islands.

The troop's leaders are Mrs. Warren Johnson, Mrs. Keith and Mrs. Robert Heilig.

LWC Group Spring Luncheon

The annual spring luncheon of the Lincoln Woman's Club bridge department was held Friday at the club house, and the afternoon hours were spent, of course, with cards.

Admiring the table favors (tiny Japanese boxes) are (seated, from the left) Mrs. Harry Hust, hostess chairman; Mrs. George Mechling, club member and first vice president of the state federation; and Mrs. Paul Deines, hostess. Also hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. William F. Damkroger and Mrs. Ray C. Johnson (standing, left to right) and Mrs. A. H. Duxberry, who is not pictured.

Most players bid honestly and don't indulge in psychics. The great advantage the psychic bidder has is that his bids frequently come under suspicion by the opponents even when he bids normally, and this sometimes causes them to overbid to prevent something from being put over on them.

This deal was played in the match between Italy and the United States in 1951. I held the West cards and opened with a club. It wasn't much of a hand, as hands go, but I think it would generally be regarded as a reasonable opening bid.

Why Grow Old?

Smart, Not Brittle, Says Goulet

Josephine Lowman

Robert Goulet, star of the Lerner-Loewe Broadway hit, "Camelot," is not only a talented and handsome young man but he is also a very interesting one.

Although Goulet is a native born American, we have to thank Canada for him. It was there that his talent was first recognized and it was there that he amassed his first great following. The combination of his fine baritone voice, his personality, his acting ability and his good looks, were sure to lead him to Broadway after that. He is also a popular television personality and his records are in great demand. I thought it would be interesting to know what this handsome star, whose romantic portrayal of Lancelot makes feminine hearts flutter, thinks about women. So gather around, girls!

He said, "People are always asking me what type woman I find most appealing. The truth is I think all women are appealing. (He is a diplomat, too.) I like women as people but especially when they act and dress like gentle and feminine people."

Like most men Mr. Goulet is not especially aware of the nuances of women's fashions. But he does know what he means by feminine clothes. He leaves out clothes that hang, bulk or bulge away from the figure, and unshaped sacks that tie in the middle. He likes smartness but not brittle chic.

It is interesting to note that hats seem to be the only accessory he really notices. "Both men and women wear slacks, Bermuda shorts, bulky sweaters and matching pajamas, but I haven't seen a man in a brightly flowered hat. Hats belong to women and they should hold onto them." He added that he likes hats that have personality and charm, not any old thing to keep the head warm.

Concerning Robert Goulet's opinion about what makes a woman interesting beside her outward appearance, he said that he will give the following advice to his five-year-old daughter when she is old enough to understand. "Be smart, but not the smartest. In other words be intelligent enough to stimulate a man intellectually, but don't compete with him. Be well informed about many things but don't top his joke. We still like to have a little upper hand."

Mr. Goulet also believes that many girls and women worry too much about their appearance and their personality and not enough about developing their gray matter, a mistake he feels leads to boredom in many marriages.

Club Programs Are Scheduled

Highlighting the Tuesday evening meeting of the Lincoln High School Parents group, which will be held at 7:30 o'clock in the auditorium, will be a panel discussion, "Teen-Agers Speak," Parents Listen."

William Bogar, principal, will moderate the panel and speakers will be Mrs. Connell Marsh, T. O. Haas and the Rev. Nye Bond, representing the parents, and John Axe, Susan Hossack, Allan LaDuke and Georgia Merriam, seniors.

Discussion topics will include, "Going Steady," "Early Marriage," "Use Of Family Car," and "Allowances." The program also will include music by the boys' octet.

Parents of incoming sophomores are invited to attend, as well as present students and their parents.

The annual banquet of Chi Omega sorority will be held Saturday evening at the University Club. During the evening, 50-year members will be especially honored.

Chairman for the banquet is Mrs. W. D. Douglass who is assisted by Mrs. Ted E. Boyle, Mrs. Russell Brehm, Mrs. Jack Carlin, Mrs. Fred G. Davie, Mrs. Patrick Donlan and Mrs. Dorothy Wolfe.

New members of the Altrusa Club of Lincoln will be honored Monday evening at the group's 6 o'clock dinner at the University Club.

Mrs. Ethel Baskins, chairman, and members of the international relations committee are in charge of the program which will feature a talk, "Jet's-Eye View of South America," by Peggy Walton, home economist with the Nebraska Wheat Commission.

Dear Abby

A Punch In The Eye

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR READERS: A battery of attorneys advised me to change the title of my new book, MARRIAGE ON THE ROCKS. So I sent an SOS to you for some suggestions, and the response was overwhelming!

From Alaska, "Why not call it, 'How Now Thou Vow?'" From Brazil, "Marriage In Orbit," from Canada, "Wedlock Deadlock." A Captain in Korea suggested, "Betrothed and Betrayed," and from Maine to California came:

"Altar Ego," "Double Bedlam," "Marriage Fallout," "How To Succeed in Marriage Without Really Trying," "The Marriage Mirage," "The Rise and Fall of Marriage," "Stalemate," "Remember the Alimony," (from Texas, natch), "A Funny Thing Happened To Me On My Way to the Lawyers," "Bed and Bored," "The Trouble With Marriage," and "How to Stay Sane in a Private Institution." And literally thousands of others.

Since my book is all about marriage, I have decided to play it straight and call it simply, DEAR ABBY ON MARRIAGE. It will be out in May. You might be disappointed with the title, but you won't be disappointed with the book. And that's a promise!

Gratefully yours,
ABBY

DEAR ABBY: It was very nice of you to tell that lady not to blame her husband for calling her another woman's name in his sleep. You said, "A man can't be blamed for what he does in his sleep."

I disagree with your advice. I would have advised that woman to give her husband a good punch in the eye because "a woman can't be blamed for what SHE does in HER sleep, either." This works because I have tried it, and my husband has never called me by another woman's name in his sleep again.

"SIXTY"

DEAR ABBY: Last night I felt very blue and depressed. My parents were not home so I telephoned my boy friend, who is taking basic training in Texas. We got carried away in conversation and talked for 35 minutes. When we hung up, I called the operator to find out how much the call cost and she said $23.80. Now, Abby, I am only 15 years old and do not have that kind of money. I am afraid to tell my mother because I know she will be furious. I am terribly sorry for what I did, but that won't help now. Would it be proper for me to ask my boy friend for the money?

TELEPHONE TROUBLES

DEAR TROUBLES: Don't ask your boy friend for the money. He has his own troubles. Tell your mother and ask her to take it out of your allowance (if you get one). Otherwise, offer to "work it out" somehow. Your parents were lucky your boy friend wasn't in Korea. And next time, try the pen.

CONFIDENTIAL TO O.J.: Get it in writing!

Stop worrying. Let Abby help you with that problem. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Reveal April Wedding Plans

Revealing plans this morning for an April wedding is Miss Susan Mary Hansen of Lincoln, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Hansen of Kearney, who has chosen Saturday, April 14, for her marriage to Gary Edward Mouden.

For the ceremony, which will be solemnized at the Methodist Church in Fremont, where the Hansens formerly resided, the bride-elect has named Miss Jolene Hansen as her maid of honor. The bridesmaids will be Miss JoAnne Morehouse and Miss Marjorie Bartlett, and lighting the candles will be Miss Linda Voss and Miss Joan Phillips.

Dennis Hillyard will serve Mr. Mouden as best man, and the corps of ushers will include Ronald Phillips, Vince Dowding, Roger Hansen, Dean Ruth, Jerry Burge and Robert Gettman.

Miss Hansen is a former student at Nebraska Wesleyan University where she is a member of Willard sorority, and her fiancé, a senior at Nebraska Wesleyan, is a member of Theta Chi fraternity.

An April bride-elect revealing plans for her approaching wedding is Miss Carol Green, whose marriage to Marvin N. Hoy will take place on Saturday, April 21.

Attending her sister as matron of honor will be Mrs. Edward Dewein of St. Louis, and Miss Marilyn Michael will be the bridesmaid. Lighting the candles for the 7:30 o'clock evening service, which will be solemnized at St. Paul Methodist Church, will be Miss Sharon Hoy of Kansas City, Kan., and Miss Linda Hoy.

Glenn Hoy of Kansas City, Kan., will serve his brother as best man, and seating the guests will be Rex Hoy of Kansas City, Kan., and Dean Hoy, brothers of the bridegroom-elect; Jack Harvey, and Ron Tweedy.

Plans for the wedding of Miss Klea Lyn Sellmeyer and Elmer E. Walin have been revealed by the bride-elect, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest R. Sellmeyer.

The wedding will take place on Monday, April 23, at Southminster Evangelical United Brethren Church, and as her matron of honor, Miss Sellmeyer has chosen

Mrs. Richard Chloupek. The bridesmaids will be Miss Nelsie Larsen of Omaha, Miss Mary Kokes, Miss Judi Ann Zadina and Miss Jan Volpe, and Miss Lyn Marie Sellmeyer of Anaheim, Calif., will attend her aunt as flower girl.

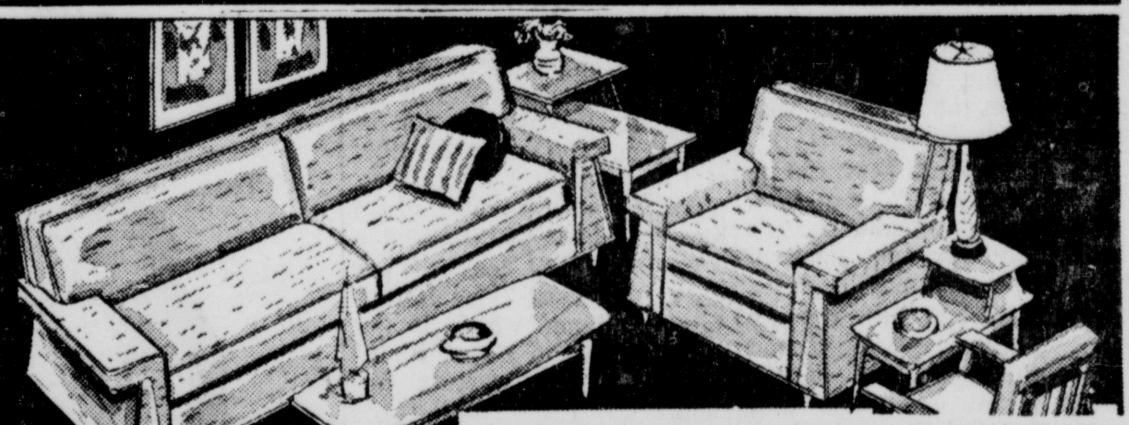

Miss Nancy Jacobsen and Miss Julie Westerhoff of Seward, will light the candles for the 7 o'clock evening service.

Serving as best man will be John Thompson, and the ushers will be Dick Beecher, Hastings; Earl Grothe, Tekamah; Jeffrey Wilson, Grand Island; Dick Dewey, Joe Gaughan, Bill Johnston and Dennis Karnopp. Tommy Chinnock of Scottsbluff will be ringbearer.

Algiers Sunday Unusual: Quiet

BIKINI CLAD GIRLS CROWD MEDITERRANEAN BEACHES

By MICHAEL GOLDSMITH
Algiers (AP) — It was the first quiet Sunday in Algiers since the cease-fire.

Young couples crowded the beaches and girls in ultra-brief bikinis basked on the soft sand. Yachts were in full sail under a cloudless Mediterranean sky.

Pretty European girls in seamless nylons and extra short skirts flirted with soldiers on guard duty.

Nowhere in the Sunday crowd was there a single Moslem.

"This is not peace," said a young mother strolling along the sun-drenched bay of Algiers with her husband and their 3-year-old son. "This only looks like peace. The Arabs are all waiting for a chance to get at us. If we give up the struggle we will end up by having our throats cut."

Her businessman husband shook his head gently, but did not disagree.

'Who Knows?'

"Who knows how this will end?" he said.

The little boy pointed at 3 letters smeared on a wall in black paint, each letter bigger than himself.

"O-A-S," the boy squealed. "O-A-S." This is the symbol of the terrorist Secret Army Organization.

The attractive, dark-haired mother, now in her early 20s, she was born in Algiers of French stock established here through four generations.

In her mind, Algiers is as French as she is. Unlike her husband, she cannot bear even to think of the future. All her adult life has been surrounded by blood and violence, and she now looks to violence almost as a protection.

Saw Dead Arab

She told how she took the boy to the corner grocery last week and they passed an Arab lying dead in the street, blood streaming from a bullet wound in his head.

"What's the matter with him?" the child asked.

"I think he is drunk," she replied, hurrying past.

"And all that red stuff, what's that?"

"I think that's the wine he drank," the young mother had answered.

"We have to tell white lies like that," she explained.

"We try to shield him as much as possible, but it's not easy."

"When he hears plastic bombs exploding in the night we used to smile and tell him it was a thunderstorm. I have a feeling he doesn't believe us any more, since one such 'storm' shattered all the windows of our apartment and he could see the starlit sky outside."

The children of Algiers

have grown up surrounded by death and destruction. From the age of 5 they can accurately judge the distance of a plastic explosion or the calibre of a burst of machine gun fire. Many European families have sent their children to boarding schools in France to remove them from the atmosphere of continual violence.

One 6-year-old European girl told her playmate cheerfully: "My daddy is going out on a job tonight."

Asked to explain what daddy's job was, she raised her eyebrows in a smug expression and said, "plastiquer, of course."

Plastiquer is a brand new word in the French language that is among the most widely used in this terror-filled city. It means to touch off a plastic bomb.

Eradicate — meaning to wipe out — is another common word among the European community.

Moslems 'Eradicated'

Three Moslem pedestrians were "eradicatd" by European gunmen in various parts of the city today. It was the lowest daily toll since the cease-fire two weeks ago.

The young mother learned the news of the shootings with a show of indifference.

"This is what they did to us for 7 years," she said, shrugging her shoulders. "It's about time they got some of their own medicine."

Meanwhile, Frency army headquarters for Algeria said a counter-offensive against a Secret Army commando unit in the Orleansville region and resulted in the capture of 20 members of the group.

The commando unit last Thursday morning had attacked 3 small French army outposts and had temporarily occupied them.

From Robin Hood and wily Dick Turpin—"Stand and deliver, sir!"—the annals of British crime are filled with wonderful rules of behavior.

(Scotland Yard couldn't have gotten along without Sherlock Holmes. Any more than the Los Angeles Johnny Nabs could get along without Perry Mason.)

One major instrument that never appears is the smoking pistol.

British police don't carry arms. And by some unwritten agreement, neither do the merry highwaymen.

The cosh—the blackjack—is the weapon of the English heister. And the other day in crowded London, 8 men jumped on an armored car.

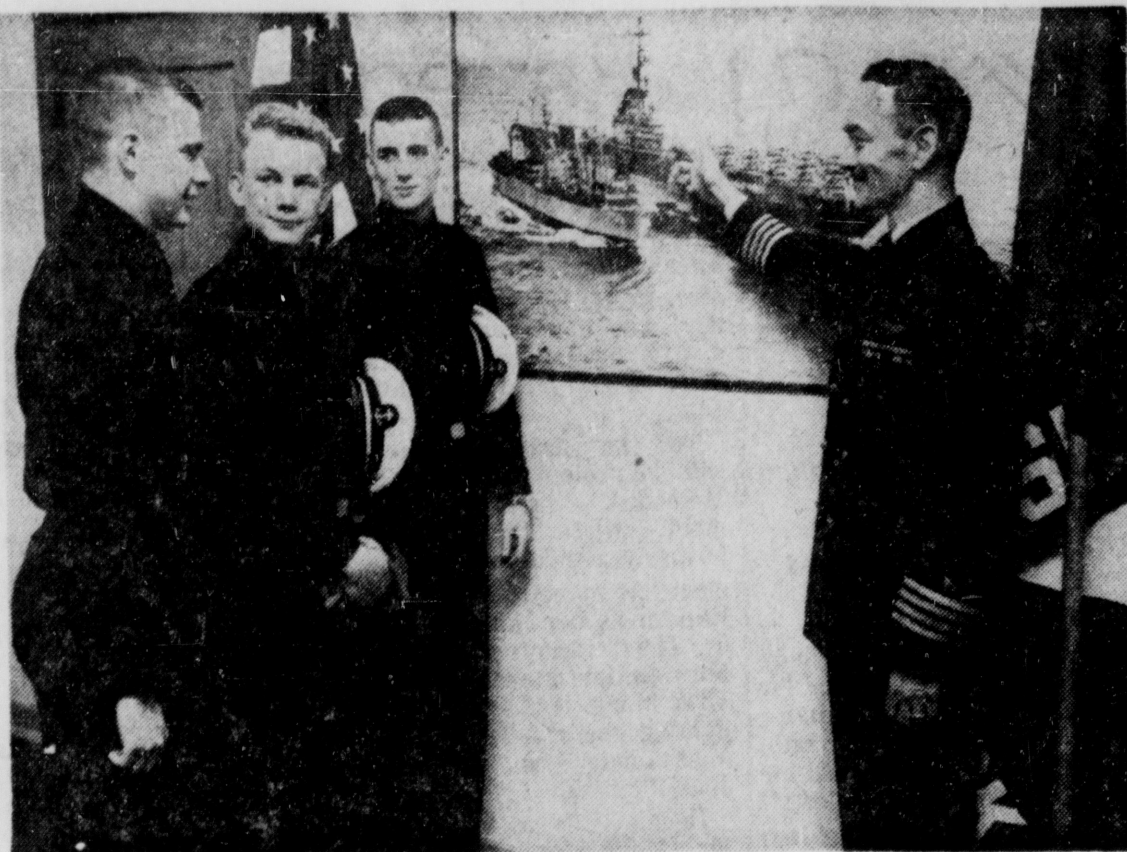

They coshed the driver. Attached a chain and hook to the back door. Ripped it off and jumped in to collect their deserved gains.

At this point, a guard inside opened fire.

"He's armed!" cried one of the robbers indignantly. They then got out and departed. Probably to cut the armored car people socially next time they meet on the street.

The pistol used by the guard was a .22!

There is some question by the papers as to why the guard was carrying the lady-

Chosen For Europe Trip

A Nebraskan is one of two wheat growers from the Great Plains area who will leave April 7 to inspect market development work in Western Europe.

He is Louis Miller, Gurley, secretary of the board of the Nebraska Wheat Growers Association. The other member of the team is Lyle Lukens, Beloit, Kan., a member of the Kansas Wheat Commission.

The two will leave New York City April 7 for Rotterdam, Holland, which is the headquarters of Great Plains Wheat, Inc. in western Europe.

Dick Lewis, Arapahoe, chairman of Great Plains Wheat board of directors, said the team will be responsible for observing the market development program being conducted by GPW in the European area.

from-Bristol. I mean, this isn't Chicago, dear boy.

In the matter of Agatha Christie crime, the English bow to no one. And the "Black Museum" at Scotland Yard has a collection of ingenuity.

Where the American wife reached for the bread-winner's .38, the English bride makes do with all sorts of clever makeshifts.

Husbands are loaded with arsenic until they glow in the dark.

An infuriated lady recently filed her husband down—she did him in with a file.

"The Mad Butcher of Notting Hill" boiled his victims.

This makes the morning statistics a good deal more readable.

When I was doing blood-and-thunder epics for the dailies, I got awfully tired of the sameness of these things.

Outlawing the pistol is the biggest thing that ever happened for British journalism.

Oh, to be in England, now that April's there. The ladies-of-the-evening, so famed from Boswell's days to ours, have left these ancient pavements.

From gaslit years to the neon era of Piccadilly Circus, the ladies winked their way down the sidewalks, took a token weekly arrest and paid a token fine of $5.60. "Annoying gentlemen in Glasshouse street," was the charge.

Recently, the law was changed. And second offense fines rose to 5 times that much.

The ladies have now taken flats off Soho, the Greenwich Village of London.

They advertise on curious corner public notice things they have here.

English courts have held that the action is illegal. But advertising is not.

In warm weather, the merry ladies of Soho advertise from parked cars.

They blow split peas with a bean blower at passing gentlemen.

Ouch! Oh, pardon me, madam.

GERMANS FEAR NEW FLOODING

Frankfurt, Germany (AP) — Spring thaws and heavy rains caused flooding in parts of Germany Sunday and set off fears of serious storm-flooding along the North German coast, badly battered in February.

High winds had been predicted along the North Coast where more than 300 persons lost their lives in the February floods that breached dikes.

The Hydrographic Institute, however, toned down its forecast and said the high water mark would reach only about 2½ feet above normal high tide.

One death was reported from inland floods. Near Bayreuth, a laborer was swept from a road by flood waters and drowned.

FIGHTS ERUPT AS CELTS SNARE LEAD

Boston (AP)—Boston ran, rebounded and had Bill Russell put the clamps on Wilt Chamberlain for a crushing 119-104 victory over Philadelphia Sunday, with the game punctuated by late violence.

Several first fights erupted and an outpouring of a Boston Garden crowd jammed the floor before Boston took a 3-2 edge in the best of 7 Eastern Division National Basketball Association playoffs.

Harsh words between Chamberlain and Sam Jones, a first fight between veteran Carl Braun of Boston and Philadelphia's Guy Rodgers and a threatened outburst pitting Rodgers against burly Jim Loscutoff set off two major mob scenes.

No injuries resulted.

Referee Sid Borgia ejected Tom Heinsohn from the game after still another roughing incident.

Duplicating their previous two victories, the Celtics had the issue settled by halftime on a pair of 36-point outbursts, leading 72-49 at intermission.

The Warriors simply couldn't keep up with the Joneses—the Celtics' unrelated Sam and K.C.

Russell scored 29 points to Chamberlain's 30. Bill blanketed Wilt so well that the NBA scoring king had only 4 of 13 field goal tries, 11 points and was outrebounded 11-9 by his tormentor in the crucial first half.

Russell also contributed numerous blocked shots and assists to the decision.

Mad at themselves for sub-par shooting in the 110-106 loss at Philadelphia Saturday, the Celtics turned loose the full force of their withering fire power to the delight of 13,496 fans.

Sam Jones of the backcourt corps, particularly unhappy with his earlier effort, sent Boston off to a 36-26 first quarter lead with a sparkling 9 points, 8 rebounds and 5 assists.

When Philadelphia closed the gap to 8 points at the start of the second period, the Celtics turned on a burst in which they out-scored the Warriors 17-4.

Fabulous ballhawk K. C. Jones lit that fuse by setting up 5 baskets, scoring one himself and twice stealing to start fast break layups.

The incident which touched off the trouble came following a collision between Chamberlain and Sam Jones. Wilt came over to shake hands. Jones refused the offer with an angry look and when Chamberlain got mad, Jones picked up a stool to defend himself in case of trouble.

Both teams including benches, officials and a large portion of the downstairs crowd joined in. After some time order was restored and fans returned to their seats. But when Loscutoff, apparently thinking he had been tripped by Rodgers, charged his opponent, it happened all over again.

The initial outbreak including the Braun-Rodgers fight was such a wild, wholesale affair that Borgia could rule only an out of bounds play.

Sam Jones contributed 23 points and Heinsohn 17 before Tom was disqualified. Rodgers hit 16 for the losers while Paul Arizin was held to 13. Tom Meschery got 14 before fouling out for the Warriors at the start of the final period.

From then on the game, long since settled, deteriorated to a display of tempers and poor playing.

CARDS WIN IN 10TH

Grid Drills Begin Today For Huskers

Nearly 90 Husker gridders, with hopes of landing a starting berth on next fall's team, will report today for the opening spring workout under new coach Bob Devaney.

The squad will include 43 returning members from the 1961 team, with 25 lettermen. Devaney says the practice sessions will be open to the public.

The workouts are expected to draw more interest than usual as Devaney begins working the Husker gridders into his multiple offense with an unbalanced line.

Since Devaney arrived on the Nebraska scene, he and the rest of the staff have been viewing movies daily in an attempt to become familiar with the potential of each player.

All gridders will be on hand, a switch from past years when many football players devoted their time to other spring sports. One Husker, however, will be doubling up. Rudy Johnson will be working out with the football squad on Monday, Wednesday, Fridays and Saturdays, but will join Frank Sevigne's track squad on the other days.

Johnson also is expected to compete in most of the NU track meets. Workouts will begin each day at 3:30 p.m. A school is limited to 20 workouts during the spring.

The Husker workouts will close May 12 with an intrasquad game on All-Sports Day. In past years an alumni-versus game has been contested on All-Sports Day, but Devaney feels an intrasquad game will be more valuable to the team this year.

Strong Legs Might Help Cub Pitchers

... DID LOTS OF RUNNING

Mesa, Ariz. (P) — If the Chicago Cub pitchers have strong arms this season, it'll probably be because they have strong legs.

Cub pitching coach Goldie Holt said Sunday the Cub hurlers did 30 per cent more running this spring than last.

"Our pitchers reported Feb. 17, a week later than last year," said the 60-year-old Holt. "But, because we had an accelerated running program, we have had no sore arms."

"The pitchers ran a half hour each day, sprinting, jogging and walking. They would run in pairs, for competition, and the 6 sprints they did at 60 yards really stretched and conditioned the leg muscles."

Holt belongs to the top level coaching quartet in the Cubs' managerless setup. But, because he is a pitching coach, Holt will not share in the head coaching rotation recently announced by vice president John Holland.

"What goes first on a pitcher is his legs — like any 'I've worked in the off-season at Santa Anita race track and I never saw a horse perform well in a race unless his legs were continually strengthened in workout after workout."

"It's the same with a pitcher. If his legs aren't strong, he begins to throw more and more with his arm. He starts pitching the ball low, where it can't be hit. Then, as his legs tire, he comes higher and higher with his pitchers and he's out of there soon."

Holt is one of 3 pitching coaches in the Cubs' multiple team directorate. The others are Vedic Himsel and Fred Martin. Himsel and Martin this season will work mainly with the Cubs' minor league club staffs.

There's a lot more to pitching than having durable, well-conditioned legs, Holt concedes.

"You're a thrower until you start thinking and then you become a pitcher," said the former roving pitching coach for the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Holt thinks, with the National League's expanded 162-game schedule, Cub regulars like Don Cardwell, Jack Curtis, Glen Hobbie and Dick Ellisworth each should pitch well over 200 innings.

"I know Curtis is in shape," said Holt. "He was the first to complete 9 innings (against Cleveland) and he didn't even break a sweat. As for Cardwell, he's liable to be the best pitcher in the league this year."

Cap D'Antibes, France (P) — Helga Schultze of Germany won the women's singles title in the Provence Lawn Tennis Club's international tourney by defeating Deidre Catt of Britain in the final, 3-6, 6-1, 7-5.

Istvan Gulyas of Hungary won the men's singles final from Juan Couder of Spain, 4-6, 6-2, 4-6, 6-3, 6-4.

Olympian Beaten

Davos, Switzerland (P) — Switzerland's Olympic champion, Roger Staub, who turned professional, was beaten in his hometown in a race of Swiss ski instructors.

Ex-Kansas Ace Paces KC Victory

Kansas City (P) — Bill Bridges scored 36 points as the Kansas City Steers defeated the Cleveland Pipers 126-115 in the opening game of the American Basketball League playoffs Sunday.

With the score tied 59-all, Bridges hit a jump shot with 3:51 left in the first half and the Steers were never again headed.

Kansas City led 69-62 at the half and boosted the margin to 19 points midway in the 3rd period.

Johnny Cox of Cleveland, who hit 5 of 12 from outside the 25-foot line, connected on 3 straight 3-pointers as the 4th period opened and cut the margin to 102-100, but the Steers again moved away.

Connie Dierking and Dick Barnett each scored 31 points for the Pipers.

The Steers hit 46 of 79 shots from the field for a 58.2 percentage.

Cleveland connected on 40 of 101, including 10 of 22 3-point efforts, for 30.6.

Gene Tormohlen hit two 3-pointers for the Steers.

No Longer Homesick, Versailles May Click

... EVERYTHING 'HOKAY'

Orlando, Fla. (P) — Volatile, versatile Zoilo Versailles has conquered his homesickness for strife-torn Havana and is ready for a great year at shortstop for the Minnesota Twins.

Versalles solved the homesick problem by the simple expedient of bringing his wife, Josephine, here from Cuba.

She is staying with Mr. and Mrs. Farrell Stihem, the Twin City couple who befriended Versailles last year when Versailles quit baseball for a couple of weeks when his moods got the better of him.

She's expecting a baby in a month and Versailles is looking forward to setting up his own home.

"No more homesick," says Zoilo, or "Zorro" as his teammates call him. "I feel hokay."

Versalles' brother and father are still in Havana, and he is tightlipped on that subject.

"I have a letter. Everything hokay," is all he will say. Aside from his "homesick vacation" last year, Versailles got off to a great start in his first full year in the majors. The slender (5-10, 150 pound), 21-year-old led American League shortstops in batting and driving in runs (.280 average and 53 RBI), was spectacular on defense and stole 16 bases.

Baseball men think if he applies himself he can become one of the best of modern shortstops. That's why the Twins are watching eagerly to see how the creation of a home life for Versailles in the United States will stabilize him.

He patterns himself on Willie Miranda, a sensational defensive shortstop with the Yankees, Washington, and Baltimore — but a mighty weak hitter.

"He my favorite," says Versailles. "All I know I learn from him."

"You wanna know how I rate myself. How I do that? I can't see myself. I like be somebody else so I see how I look. Who know, maybe I no play hard enough."

Japan Downs Koreans In Davis Cup Round

Seoul, South Korea, (P) — Japan completed a sweep of its first round Eastern Zone Davis Cup tennis series with South Korea Sunday, winning the final two singles matches.

Michio Fujii defeated Kim Too-Hwan 6-0, 6-3, 6-3 and Siekichi Suga downed Lee Ton-won 6-4, 6-2, 6-1.

Japan's next opponent will be the winner of the Philippine-Ceylon match.

Marr Cops Azalea Golf In Playoff

... BIRDIE ON 1ST HOLE

Wilmington, N.C. (P) — Dave Marr rolled in a 3-foot birdie putt on the first hole of a sudden death playoff with Jerry Steelsmith Sunday to win top money of $2,800 in the $20,000 azalea open golf tournament.

Steelsmith, lanky redhead from Glendale, Calif., hoping to win his first tournament, had to settle for $1,900 runner-up money.

The two young pros had tied over the 72-hole route of 281, 7 under par. They finished a stroke ahead of Mason Rudolph, Clarksville, Tenn., who bogeyed the 15th and 16th holes for a 73 finish to win $1,400.

Marr, a Texan playing out of Sun City, Ariz., set up his winning birdie with a "little 8 iron shot" on the extra hole. Steelsmith, who had birdied 5 holes on the back 9 to close with 68, put his second shot about 20 feet from the hole as sudden death play began. His putt rolled about a foot by the hole and Marr knocked his in.

Cleveland Netter Upsets Brazilian

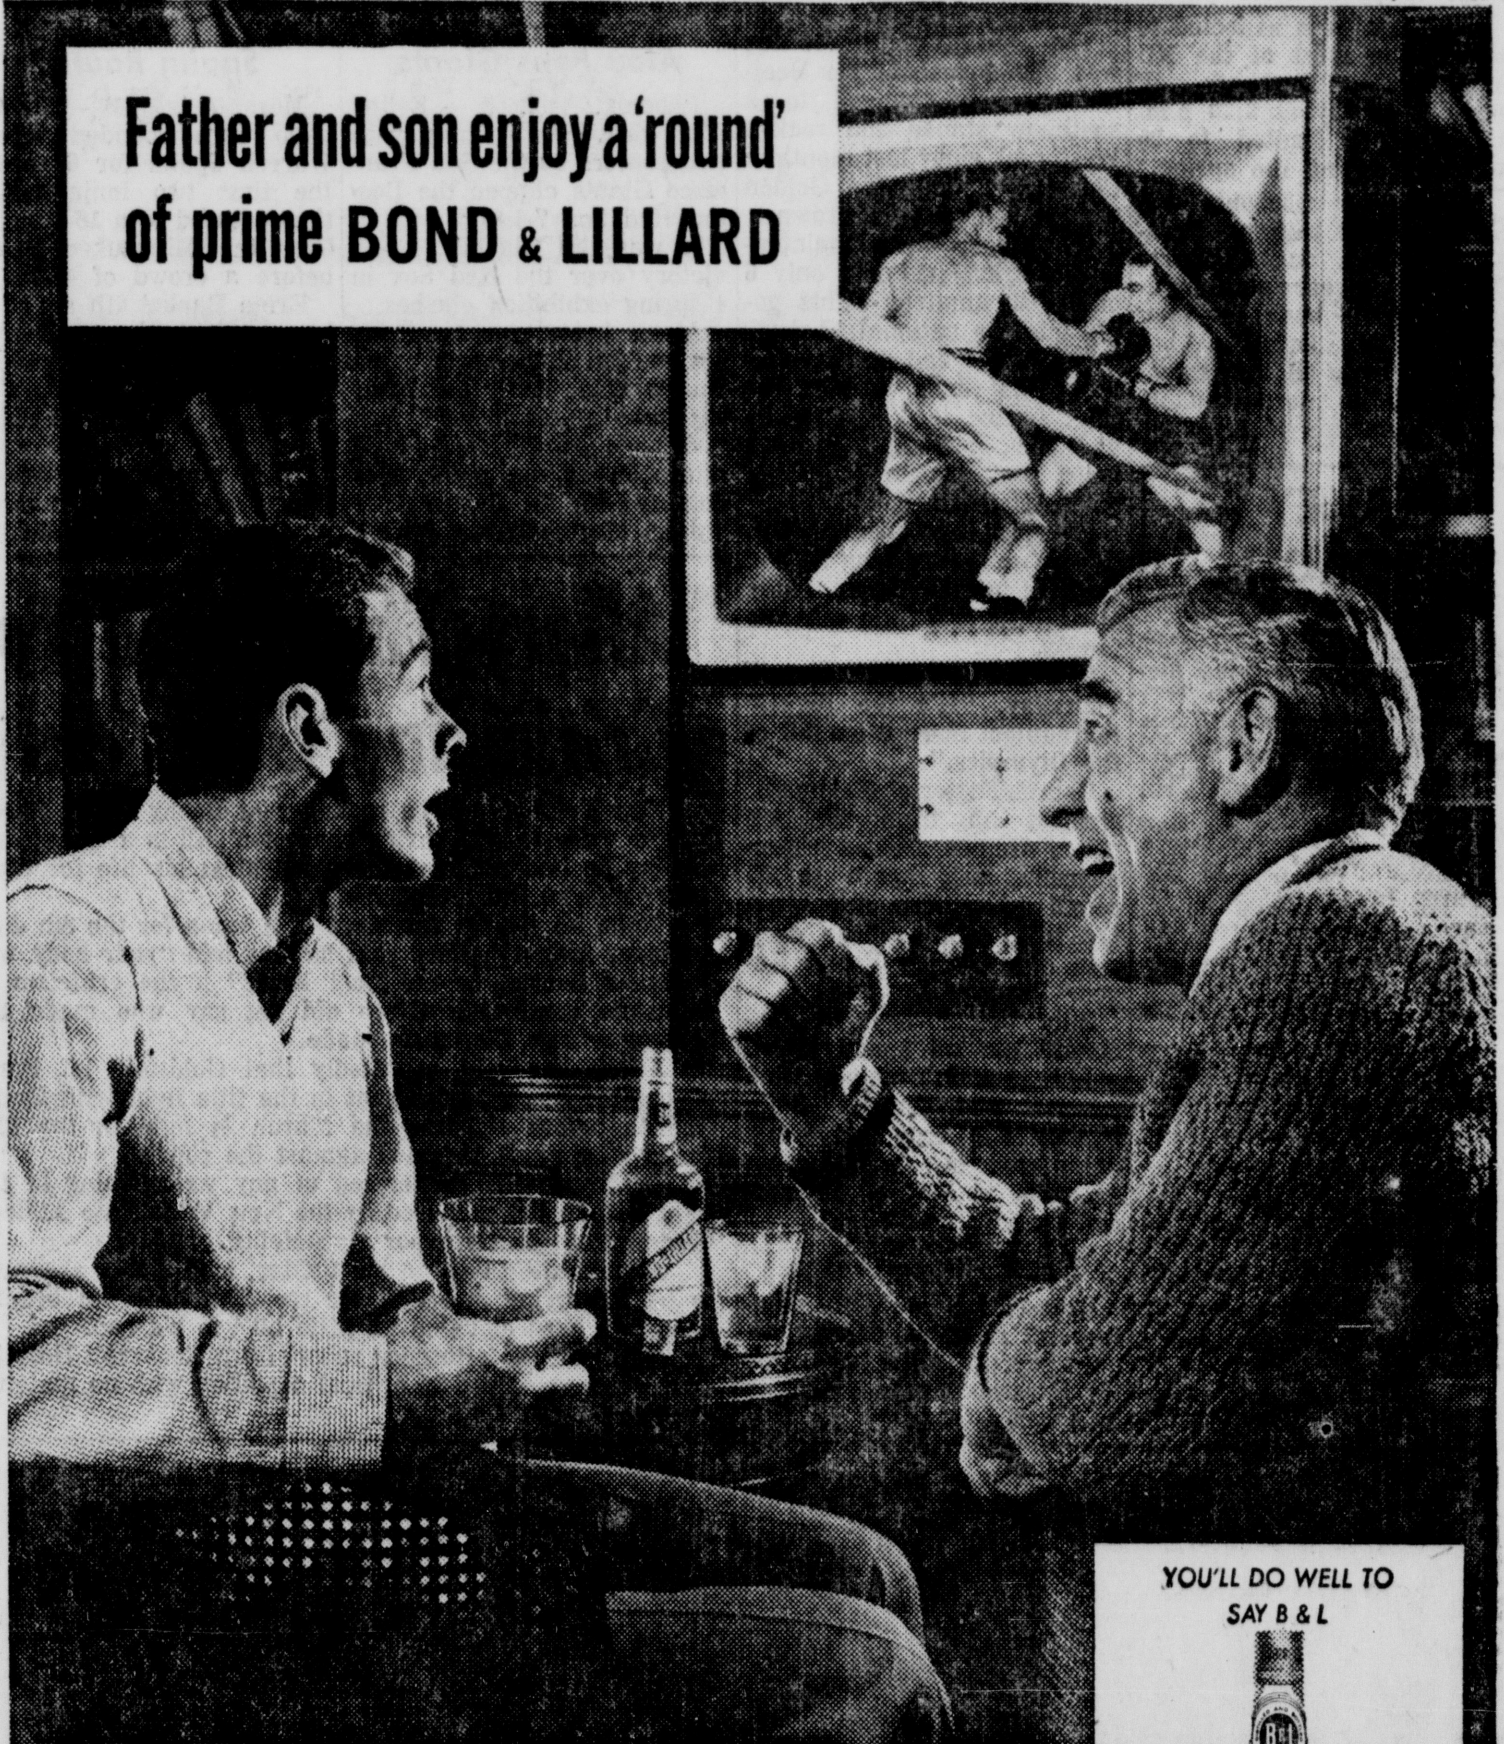

San Juan, Puerto Rico (P) — Gwyn Thomas of Cleveland upset Brazil's Maria Bueno with a brilliant baseline game Sunday and won the international tennis tournament title 3-6, 6-3, 6-3.

Miss Thomas, ranked No. 6 in the United States, broke Miss Bueno's service in the second game of the deciding set as the Brazilian star became erratic and missed easy plays at the net.

$4.5 Million K St. Viaduct, By-Pass Could Help Growth

City Council Plan Needs State OK To Receive Federal Money

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

The proposed K Street viaduct and by-pass, considered an essential element of the Interstate 180 access route and downtown traffic plan, could also spur western growth of Lincoln. The City Council has asked the State Highway Department to construct without delay the viaduct and by-pass connection between West O and Hwy. 6 and Hwy. 77 and 2 on 9th and 10th.

Human Error Blamed For Deaths Of 28

Washington (AP) — Multiple human errors rather than an act of God were blamed Sunday for collapse of a radar tower which plunged 28 men to death in an Atlantic storm early last year.

A report by Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., chairman of a watchdog defense investigating group, said "none of the principal agencies involved in this tragic episode were entirely free from fault."

These included the designing engineers, the building contractor, the Navy, which supervised construction and repair, and the Air Force, which used the huge metal tower as part of its radar system to guard against enemy air attacks.

When the storm-battered tower finally disappeared in an icy gale on Sunday, Jan. 15, 1961, 14 Air Force personnel and an equal number of civilian workers were drowned.

'Old Shaky'

The 3-legged tower was located about 80 miles off the Jersey coast. Long unstable, it was known as "Old Shaky" to those who worked on it.

The tower platform was about 65 feet above the ocean surface and it stood in 185 feet of water.

Critized most heavily by the Senate investigators were the designing engineers, Moran, Proctor, Mueser & Rutledge of New York City, and Theodore M. Kuss, an engineer-inventor employee.

The report said Kuss and the designing firm failed to advise the Air Force or the contractor that the storm-weakened tower, which has been repaired several times, could or would collapse.

Burton, Liz And Children Spend Sunday At Beach

Rome (AP) — Elizabeth Taylor took her 3 children to the beach Sunday and later to lunch with British actor Richard Burton at a restaurant there.

Miss Taylor and the children rode to the Tyrrhenian seacoast town of Torvajonica, about 20 miles southwest of Rome, in a chauffeur-driven limousine. Burton, co-starring with Miss Taylor in the movie "Cleopatra", drove in his own car.

It was their second public outing in the last two days. Early Saturday, they went night-clubbing in Rome's Via Veneto and one witness said they "held hands, danced and kissed many times."

Two Italian news photographers followed the limousine with the 30-year-old screen beauty and Michael Wilding, 8, Christopher Wilding, 6, and Lisa Todd Fisher, 3 — children by her former marriages. The photographers said Burton, 36, drove there from his own villa.

New Interstate Bridge Collapses

. . . INTO FLOODING BIG SIOUX

Sioux City, Iowa (AP) — An Interstate Highway bridge in Sioux City, linking Iowa and South Dakota, was washed out early Sunday by rising floodwaters of the Big Sioux River.

The $250,000 bridge was built within the last two years. It carried Interstate Route 29 from western Iowa into South Dakota at Sioux City.

South Dakota authorities said a section of the bridge collapsed into the river about 5:30 a.m. The bridge on the Iowa side dropped about 4 feet. There apparently were no vehicles on the bridge at the time.

The twin bridge alongside the Interstate bridge also was closed as a precautionary measure. The collapsed bridge carried northbound traffic and the twin bridge carried vehicles going south.

Meanwhile, Sioux City continued its week-long fight against flood threats.

The span, its safety the target of months of controversy, is located west of Sioux City, which is preparing for its second flood crest in 3 days.

The bridge was opened to traffic only last December although it was completed, with its twin, in 1959. Designed by the South Dakota Highway Dept., the bridge was built by Graves Brothers Construction Co., Melvin, Ia.

being moved to bolster a mile-long earthen dike protecting Sioux City's west side from the Big Sioux.

Scores of National Guardsmen patrolled the dike in trucks loaded with bags of sand.

Turnberry, Scotland (AP) — Ayr County Council has rejected a plan for a trailer camp within sight of Culzean castle. The council said it didn't want to mar the view from a castle apartment that was given former President Eisenhower by the people of Scotland.

Stevenson And Humphrey Dispute Jackson's United Nations Charges

New York (UPI) — Adlai E. Stevenson and Sen. Hubert Humphrey, D-Minn., Sunday disputed charges that the United States has placed too much reliance in the United Nations.

Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., said in a National Press Club speech last month that U.S. foreign policy was unduly influenced by U.N. considerations. He said the best hope for peace rests rather in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) and that the U.S. ambassador to the United Nations is a sort of "second secretary of state."

Although Jackson was not mentioned, Stevenson — U.S. ambassador to the United Nations — and Humphrey disagreed with his charges on the television show "Adlai Stevenson Reports."

Several Levels

"Actually," Stevenson said, "the conduct of our foreign policy is at several levels. We conduct our foreign policy bilaterally. We conduct our foreign policy at the regional level, such as the Organization of American States or NATO. We conduct it also at the universal level, which is the United Nations."

"And I think we struggle here at the United Nations, at that level, to reach common ground with as many nations as we possibly can on these issues. . . . I think the very fact that we have more friends and fewer enemies here is a contribution to our national security.

"It is interesting to recall that over the years in which this institution has existed, the Soviet Union has exercised its veto in the Security Council — that is, opposed decisions of the United Nations — in a hundred different cases. The United States has never had to use its veto. That is to say we have had — in virtually all these cases — we have had the other nations going our way, or we have found it compatible with our interest to go their way."

"Now, the idea somehow that this is a disadvantage to us seems to me very odd."

Humphrey said the "business of trying to inflict upon us a rivalry between our regional organizations in which we have a great interest and a vital stake and the United Nations is a great disservice to American security and American foreign policy."

Stevenson added that the two types of organization are "entirely compatible."

"It would be a great mistake to try to equate — to try to say that the United Nations is an alternative to NATO," Stevenson said.

U.S. Has Triggered Nuclear Tests Without Being Detected

— Geneva (UPI) — The United States has set off some underground nuclear explosion which Japanese and Swedish monitors have failed to detect, American sources said Sunday.

The point was made in support of an elaborate system of international inspection and controls over any nuclear test ban treaty.

The Russians maintained that present national systems of detection are adequate. The Americans claim that experience shows nations could cheat.

The Americans said Swedish and Japanese seismologists detected an underground explosion near Carlsbad, N. M., last Dec. 10 only because they knew to the second when it was to be fired.

Given List
The Swedes were given a list of some other American underground explosions, with the time less precisely stated. They searched their records but were not able to identify any signal as having been caused by American tests.

Valerian Zorin, Russia's chief disarmament negotiator has contended that "all nuclear explosions carried out today are registered"—that is, detected by existing machinery.

But he has refused to say how many American tests were detected by the Russians ("that's all been in the newspapers") or to say how many tests the Russians conducted in order that the United States might check its records.

American officials said the last round of underground tests in the United States showed how difficult it was to detect tests at a distance.

Even when a signal is received in a monitoring station, they said, its point of origin often cannot be determined accurately and without other information it is impossible to identify it as a nuclear explosion.

Nikita Used Trick
Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev said recently he had tricked the United States into refusing this.

He said Russia touched off an unannounced underground nuclear explosion Feb. 3 and U.S. Atomic Energy Commission promptly announced detection of it.

But American sources said there were other factors. First, the explosion was well above the threshold of detection—19 kilotons. Secondly, the blast took place near Semipalatinsk in Central Asia where the Russians had tested previously and it is an area in which there are almost no earthquakes.

The chance of hiding an underground explosion in that particular area would be so difficult that the Americans and British already had decided to forego asking for international inspection there. They preferred to concentrate on some of the more earthquake-prone sections where a nuclear test could be masked by natural tremors.

U.S. Official: Laos Rebels Know Policy

Vientiane, Laos (UPI)—The first American official to visit the stronghold of the Laotian rebels said Sunday he thought their leaders were convinced that the United States really wanted a neutral coalition government for Laos.

The official was William H. Sullivan, who headed the U.S. State Department team at the 17-nation Geneva conference on Laos. He returned here Saturday on an overnight visit with neutralist Prince Souvanna Phouma and pro-Communist Pathet Lao leader Prince Souphanouvong at Khang Khay.

Even his visit to the rebel headquarters was an about face for U.S. diplomacy here. The United States has officially refused to recognize the existence of Souvanna's neutralist "government" and no U.S. official has met with Souphanouvong since he began his civil war against the right-wing government.

"I think Souvanna Phouma accepts and understands our policies," Sullivan told a news conference. "I think Souphanouvong does too."

Communist Pathet Lao broadcasts sounded less promising. One said Sullivan had gone to Khang Khay only to carry out the "two-faced policy of the U.S. imperialists."

Air Force Asks Pilot Training Cut Be Reconsidered

Washington (AP)—The Air Force has asked the Defense Department to reconsider its decision to reduce the pilot-training rate from 1,500 to 1,200 for the year beginning next July 1.

Maj. Gen. Jack F. Merrell, the Air Force's budget director, told a House appropriations subcommittee of this plea.

Merrell earlier had told a Senate appropriations subcommittee that the cutback had been ordered and that, therefore, two of the nation's 8 pilot-training Air Force bases would be closed. No decision has been made as to which bases will be inactivated.

The Air Force, Merrell said, feels that its pilot inventory is aging considerably and "even if we go to 1,200 production rate in fiscal 1963, we will have to increase the production rate again in 1964 and later years."

Hoffa Hits Steel Pact 'Pressure'

Detroit (UPI) — Teamsters President James Hoffa Sunday night assailed the steel industry settlement and said "the government used pressure."

Hoffa said, "you can rest assured that the Teamsters Union isn't going to have any settlements like the steel settlements."

He said the settlement, which ignored pay raises for steel workers in the first year of a new contract, was a case of wage freezing on the part of the government and "there is no question but that it was a political maneuver."

Hoffa made the comments at an organizational meeting here in establishment by the union of a political arm called DRIVE.

Setting Up Units

The Teamsters are setting up 45 DRIVE units throughout the nation to select candidates and issues, local, state and national, to receive Teamster backing.

Hoffa declined to say whether his union would endorse former Vice President Richard M. Nixon in the California gubernatorial election this year.

But he acknowledged that Nixon had the endorsement of the Teamsters in the 1960 presidential election and said his own impressions of Nixon have not changed.

Dr. O. D. Ellis, Osteopath, Dies

Dr. Orville D. Ellis, 66, of 1540 Sunburst Lane died Sunday.

Funeral services will be 2:30 p.m. Tuesday at Hoegman-Splain Chapel, Dr. J. Ford Forsyth officiating. Burial will be in Lincoln.

An osteopathic physician, Dr. Ellis was born in Sreat, Ill., and had lived in Lincoln 31 years.

EVERYBODY'S MONEY:

With Inflation, Percentage Of Tip Has Also Increased

By Merryle S. Rukeyser
M. Lincoln Schuster, the book publisher, and I were seated at a table at a glamorous newspaper's women ball in the dining room of the old Ritz Carlton Hotel in New York. For more than an hour waiters ignored us. Finally Mr. Schuster wisecracked: "No wonder they passed by. They've no doubt been avid readers of your anti-tipping series in the Journal."

In the years that have since elapsed, various techniques have been tried for compensating those who render services to patrons. By some strange quirk of economics, everything is included in the selling price except the cost of rendering direct service. With inflation, the gross sum on which the percentage tip is figured has increased spectacularly, and in addition the percentage rate has been stepped up from 10% to 15% and in some instances to 20%.

Curiously enough, more initiative has been shown in the Old World than in this country to find a more democratic system for paying waiters, chambermaids, and others who render direct services. European hotels and restaurants have long essayed to obviate embarrassment by adding a service charge to the check. On my recent visit to Portugal, Spain, France and the British Isles, I found this system more widespread than in the past. The percentage allowance varies from 10% to 20%, with many adding 15%.

But the tipping habit, nevertheless, persists, and the sophisticated Fielding Guide to European Travel recommends that the customer give 5% to 10% as a tip in addition to the service charge.

On my first trip to Europe some 36 years ago, the mandatory service charge was relatively new, and numerous hotels posted notices asking guests to cooperate and refrain from tipping. As I met traveling dowers, I would wisecrack that I was cooperating with the management.

In this country, little progress has been made in regularizing compensation for employees through a service charge, although one uptight restaurant chain in New York for years forbade tipping and instead added a 10% service charge. During inflation, however, they abandoned the policy, as evidently its help found it could earn more elsewhere.

The tipping custom seems inconsistent with the spirit of equality, and emphasizes the master and servant relationship. In addition, it has the disadvantage of giving special attention to the overgenerous tipper. The late Diamond Jim Brady started the vogue for colossal tipping. Good management, however, seeks to create the climate of regarding the regular customers as the VIPs (Very Important Persons).

It is a criticism of the unions, with all their pretense toward idealism and the spirit of democracy, that they wink at tipping. I had the responsibility as trustee for a Maryland estate of operating Harvey's Restaurant in Washington, D.C. I found that the waiters had a disproportionate voice in the restaurant workers union because they were numerically the largest group. Since the bulk of their compensation came from tips, their insistence on salary raises unduly drew funds from the back of the house employees, who were not tipped. The management had a good idea of the total income of waiters because of tips written on checks by charge customers.

During World War II, the late Charles M. Schwab, developer of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation. One night on a Pullman car Mr. Schwab asked: "George, how much does the average man tip you for an overnight trip?" The porter replied: "Five dollars, sir." Next morning on leaving the train, Mr. Schwab gave the porter a 5 dollar bill. "Thank you sir," the porter said, "You're the first one ever who came up to the average."

When you discuss the economics of tipping, the routine reaction is that any talk of change is visionary. But logically the services of the waiter, the captain, the head waiter, and the hotel chambermaid are part of the total cost of the operation, and, like rent, electricity, managerial and other help, advertising, food, etc., such costs should be reflected in the price of the food items and of the hotel room.

Lest you regard such a discussion as whistling in the dark, it should be recorded that the airlines at home and abroad have defied the tipping tradition, and yet service aloft is gracious and friendly. The airlines have shown that it can be done. Likewise, most high grade private clubs forbid tipping. Where there is no tipping, the employees receive realistic salaries, which are sufficient to attract them. Where there is tipping, the nominal salaries are grossly substandard, and tipping is a license to exploit the customer.

Some organizations make the mistake of treating the celebrity on the cuff better than the man who pays his way. Thus a visiting lecturer in Walla Walla, Washington, during the period of wartime austerity and scarcity, broke a link on his gold wrist watch band. The Chamber of Commerce secretary took him to a leading local jewelry establishment. The repair was quickly made. When the visitor asked how much he owed, the proprietor remarked: "If I intended to charge you, you'd have to wait 4 weeks for the repair."

Science Shrinks Piles
New Way Without Surgery
Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations. Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinkage) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of many months! In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H®. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters.

DID YOU KNOW THIS? IT'S A FACT:

A million homes in the United States are centrally air-conditioned. There are believed to be 45 whooping cranes left in existence. In 1938 the number of the birds was 14. Sugar content of the sugar beet has risen from 2 to 4% in the 18th Century to 15% today. Chances of rain falling on San Francisco any July 15 are 1 in 25. Netherlands New Guinea was discovered in 1511 by Portuguese sailors.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE

Here's How To Work It
A X Y D L B A A X B
L O N G F E L L O W
One letter simply stands for another. In this example, A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Here is a practical little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures gives you.
